MAN IS HIT BY BOLT OF LIGHTNING

Barn Is Destroyed In Spring City

POWER FAILURE HITS WIDE AREA

By GORDON GRIFFITHS
(Mercury Staff Writer)

A localized electrical storm accompanied by high winds, hail and damaging lightning bolts struck the Pottstown area early Thursday evening.

The storm whipped into a tornado northwest of Trappe and destroyed nearly all of that borough's stately shade trees along 422, in addition to taking the roofs off several homes.

A barn and its contents worth $10,000 were destroyed at Pikeland avenue and Route 183 in Spring City, when lightning set fire to the structure.

Among the victims of the storm were a Pottstown man apparently struck by a lightning bolt and a Trappe man who suffered shock when lightning set fire to his garage while he was working in it.

The Trappe tornado — identified by eyewitnesses as two white columns — was reminiscent of a tornado which struck the Niantic area last June 24, wreaking much greater damage.

The toppling trees along Route 422 cut off all power in a wide area at 5:05 p. m. The first rain fell in Pottstown at 4:20 p. m., and a short time later in Limerick and then Trappe.

Route 422 was closed to all through traffic from the Collegeville bridge to West Seventh avenue, Trappe, from 5:15 p. m. to 7:15 p. m.

Storm's Force Flips Car, Rips Off Roofs; 7 Made Homeless

By WILLARD S. RANDALL
(Mercury Staff Writer)

A tornado struck Trappe Thursday at 5:05 p. m. and within three minutes leveled hundreds of trees, cut power and telephone service, damaged several buildings and left three families homeless.

Heaviest damage was done to an apartment house at 24 West Fifth street and to Kline-Styer-McCann post 7155, Veterans of Foreign Wars, on Third avenue. No one was injured.

Left homeless by the tornado were seven residents of the apartment house. The tornado ripped half the roof and part of the stone walls from this structure.

Residents were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Orner Jr. and their two children, Deborah Ann, 4, and Thomas E., 15 months; Mr. and Mrs. John Minnick 3d; and Mrs. Margaret Schlichter.

ABOUT ONE third of the roof of the veterans' post was blown away. But within an hour after the storm, the veterans closed ranks and closed the gaping hole with canvas, plastic sheeting and scrap lumber.

The storm, which stripped a four block stretch of Main street between Third and Seventh streets of scores of stately old trees, was presaged by gale force winds shortly before 5 o'clock.

'VERY GOOD' RATING GIVEN TO ROBERTS

Visiting Authorities Study School System

The Northern Chester County Joint school board Thursday night learned that the Owen J. Roberts Junior-Senior High school received a rating of 'very good" from a team of visiting authorities who made a special study of the Bucktown school in March.

The study and report are the first steps in the Jointure's effort to become accredited by the Middle States association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

The evaluation was covered in a special meeting of the Joint board at the school. Dr. Gilmore Fisher, superintendent of Ewing township schools in New Jersey, chairman of the March study group discussed the report with 18 members of the board and top school officials.

The Jointure will take action to carry out many recommendations in the report, and by September 1 will reply to the Middle States association concerning questions, changes and additions in the school facilities, staff and program.

A FINAL accrediation notice will be issued in November, pending the decision of the Middle States association.

The team which visited the school March 15, 16 and 17 was made up of 21 Pennsylvania and New Jersey school officials.

COURT TO HEAR PLEA TO CLOSE BEAUTY SHOP

Borough Plans To File Action Today

The borough will go into court today to halt the operation of a North End beauty shop "on a commercial basis."

In a complaint in equity to be filed with the Montgomery County Common Pleas court today, the borough charges that the Sparky and Joanne's Beauty salon no longer operates as a home occupation."

The business, the complaint alleges, is now operated by Albert and Joanne Derecola "with six to eight employes" in violation of both the zoning ordinance and the permission granted by the zoning board in 1951.

The Derecolas claim that there was no limitation on the extent of the business and no mention of a home occupation when they applied for permission to open the shop in the basement of their home at 247 Price street.

Pottstown Is Backward? That's What Nurse Says On Learning Health Setup

(Editor's Note: Does Pottstown require a fulltime health officer? The Board of Health says yes, the health and sanitation committee says no. The Mercury today continues its examination of the health departments in other cities.)

By PAUL LEVY
(Mercury Staff Writer)

No one ever called Aliquippa the most modern town in Pennsylvania.

"But at least it's more modern than Pottstown," Josephine D'Ottavio claims. 'In fact, I'd say that Pottstown was rather backwards.' "

Miss D'Ottavio never visited Pottstown, but her statements carry the weight of five years as the health officer in Aliquippa and 15 years as a registered nurse.

"It's a simple matter of logic," Miss D'Ottavio explains. "Since both towns are just about the same in size and socio-economic makeup, there can't be that much more work here—or that much less work there."

Aliquippa and Pottstown are both middle class industrial communities with populations of approximately 26,000. Aliquippa has 109 eating and drinking places and the health officer received 279 nuisance complaints last year. Pottstown has 134 eating and drinking places and

GOP FAVORS PARTTIME HEALTH POST

Plea By Board Is Rejected at Caucus

Any request for a fulltime health officer will be voted down by the Republican majority in council "until someone proves that the job requires a fulltime employe."

The decision was made at the Republican caucus in library hall, The Mercury learned Thursday night.

The decision, in effect, will uphold the recommendation of the health and sanitation committee to hire a parttime health officer "at least for the remainder of the year."

The GOP caucus based its decision on the same points that the health and sanitation committee did a week ago—that

Man Cuts Finger In Truck Mishap

Michael F. Homa, Hellertown, walked out of an accident Thursday night with only a cut finger.

In one of the many accidents and mishaps caused by the heavy afternoon rain, Homa, who was driving north on North State street at 8:15 p. m., misjudged the "S" bend at Rhoad's Fruit farm, slipped on the wet street and ran off the shoulder of the road into a ditch.

His pickup truck was thrown to the left side of the ditch and damage was estimated at $200. Chief George Maxwell of the Upper Pottsgrove police investigated the accident.

Fog and haze early today, becoming partly cloudy and continued warm and humid. Thundershowers late today or tonight. Wind southwest at 10 to 15 miles an hour. High near 85. Low at night 65. Tomorrow mostly fair with high near 80.

Rain Slick Road Causes Crash

The rain which caused such heavy damage Thursday afternoon also helped to cause an accident at hazardous Burdan's corner, Upper Pottsgrove township.

Richard C. Dunkelberger, Shoemakersville RD 1, was driving north on Route 100. Trying to make the curve at Burdan's corner, his car slipped on the slick road and slid into a car driven by Ralph F. Buchert, 1044 South street, going south.

No one was injured, but Dunkelberger's car had sustained $400 damage, Buchert's $250.

The accident occurred at 4:30 p. m. Chief of Police George Maxwell, Upper Pottsgrove township, investigated.

JUNIOR HIGH BOUNDARY LINE STILL IN AIR

School Board Fails To Decide on Dispute

Pottstown school board members reached a stalemate on the question of where the boundary line for pupils attending Northern and Central Junior High schools should be drawn in a special session Thursday afternoon.

Northern Junior High school is on North Franklin street. Central Junior High school is at Chestnut and Penn streets.

Three board members, Mrs. Josephine B. Struckmann, Daniel L. Marquette and Carl M. Hofheinz, stuck to their guns in refusing to let a final decision be made "without consideration for those involved—taxpayers".

A final solution to the problem was put off until the board could study a NAACP proposal "more thoroughly." This decision was expected within two weeks.

The issues at stake in the four month old controversy came down to this in the one hour session in the administration building, Beech and Penn streets:

1. Should the board adhere to its disputed stand and send 30 Negro children north of the original line to Northern Junior High school; or

2. Should the board follow

36 EAST END APARTMENTS ARE APPROVED

$350,000 Project At Moser Road, Queen Street

A $350,000 East End apartment project was given preliminary approval Thursday night when the planning committee quickly approved the rezoning of a section of Moser road from commercial to residential.

The zoning change was requested by Henry H. Weiner, an Abington builder who will develop the 36-unit apartment at Moser road and Queen street.

The upgrading was necessary since commercial zoning in the borough prohibits the construction of an apartment development. Weiner, however, must still have building plans approved before proceeding with actual construction.

The rezoning was previously approved by the planning commission on four points:

1—An apartment development will be a stabilizing effect on the neighborhood.

2—The change from C-1 to R-3 zoning presents a more natural transition from commercial to residential.

3—There is no apparent need for additional commercial land in the area.

4—The apartments will help meet the demand for apartments in the borough.

Dr. Porter's Memories—

Brand New Doctor Opens His Practice

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series about Dr. J. Elmer Porter, doctor, banker and political figure in Pottstown).

Young Dr. Porter came to Pottstown in 1887 to practice medicine in a blossoming community that was being served by several vegetable and herb doctors and a few phonies, as well as a handful of legitimate practicioners.

J. Elmer Porter, M.D., had finished a two-year post-graduate course at Jefferson Medical college, Philadelphia—receiving honors for his scholastic achievements.

The post-grad work wasn't required then, but after a four month stretch as resident physician at Philadelphia General hospital, Dr. Porter felt he was still "green," and enlisted for extra study.

Coming up the line, he spent six weeks assisting a physician in Limerick while he was or-

Ursinus College Receives Trust Fund of $12,000

A trust fund of $12,000, established as a memorial to the late Farncis J. Clamer, and for maintenance and upkeep of the site of the first women's college in Pennsylvania, was awarded to Ursinus college.

The Francis J. Clamer Memorial fund was established Feb. 6, 1939, by Dr. Guillam H. Clamer, Gertrude Bauer, Alma J. Miller and Anna Marie Kelley, when $2000 was placed in trust.

Purpose was to perpetuate the site of the former Pennsylvania Female college, near the Ursinus college property, at Collegeville. Both the women's college and the Freeland seminary, a boys' school, were forerunners of Ursinus college. The tract is known as the "Glenwood Memorial."

At the time, Dr. Clamer, son of Francis J. Clamer, a former trustee of Ursinus college, agreed to contribute an additional $10,000 to the fund if the college would agree to fulfill conditions of the original trust.

THE AWARD is conditioned on the additional gift of $10,000 from Dr. Clamer and the college's acknowledgement of its obligation under terms of the agreement.

Dr. Clamer, although he did not attend Ursinus college, nor did he ever serve on the board of trustees, was awarded an honorary doctorate from there some time ago.

He is recognized here and abroad as an authority on non-ferrous metals and is president of Ajax company, Philadelphia.

He has served as consultant to the government during World War I, to the Bureau of Standards and has written articles on alloys, metallurgy and electrical furnaces.

A graduate of University of Pennsylvania in 1897, he was awarded the Elliott Cresson medal by the Franklin institute, which he served many years as a member of the board of managers.

It was during this accident that Susan Zelle, 11, of Jeffersonville, suffered injuries which resulted in her death two days later.

Upper Perkiomen Board Hires Three Teachers

Two Upper Perkiomen High school graduates were among three teachers and two clerks hired by the Upper Perkiomen joint school board at a short meeting Thursday night.

The two 1956 graduates, both from East Greenville, are James Slotter and Harriett Moffett. Slotter, a June graduate of Muhlenberg college, and Miss Moffett, a June graduate of West Chester college, will both teach Junior High school English.

Also hired was Alice Menkewicz, a 1959 graduate of Bloomsburg State college. A commercial teacher, she taught in the Levittown school for the past two years.

The two clerks hired were approved in the 1961-62 budget. They are Mrs. Frederick Schantz, of East Greenville, and Nancy Patyski, of Pennsburg RD.

MRS. SCHANTZ will work in the high school office and Miss Patyski, a June graduate of Upper Perkiomen High school, will work in the administration office.

The joint board also re-appointed William W. Evans, a registered certified public accountant from Lansdale, as accountant for the joint school system.

Resignations were also received from Roberta Ash, High school vocal music instructor, and Mrs. Marian Bardman, physical education teacher at the Green Lane school. Miss Ash will attend the Eastman school of Music in Rochester, N. Y.

The board also received bids for general supplies but will call a special meeting to open them. No date was set for the special meeting. Bills totalling $109,133 were approved for payment.

Dates Are Set For Registration

The Montgomery County Registration Commission announced the Summer schedule for a team of registrars which will set up temporary centers throughout the county until September.

Electors may come to these centers to register, change their names, or bring their addresses up to date. There can be no change of party between the primary and general elections.

The traveling registrars will be in Pottstown July 11, and August 7, at the borough hall.

During July they will visit the following places on the dates indicated: Sanatoga, July 6; Stowe, Oaks, and Perkiomen, July 12; Gilbertsville, July 13; Trooper, July 18; East Greenville, Limerick, and Upper Frederick, July 19; Trappe, and Skippack, July 20; Royersford and Green Lane, July 25; Jeffersonville, July 26; and Collegeville, July 31.

The team will be at Red Hill Aug. 7, and Schwenksville, Aug. 9.

OVERCROWDING FORCES CHANGE IN SYSTEM

7th Graders to Attend Elementary Schools

Because of the crowded conditions in the Collegeville-Trappe High school and the anticipated building program during the coming year, the seventh grade will be housed in the Collegeville-Trappe Elementary and Skippack Elementary schools.

There will be two sections in each one of the above mentioned schools and their work will be coordinated with subject specialists providing instruction in areas like music, art, physical education.

To release two rooms for Seventh grade in the C-T building it will be necessary for most of the students living in Skippack and now going to C-T to return to the Skippack school.

It will also be necessary for some of next years Fifth and Sixth grade pupils living in Collegeville and Trappe boroughs to be transported by bus to the Skippack school. This is consistent with one of the purposes of jointure to make the most effective use of facilities and personnel.

THE EDUCATIONAL program in each school is coordinated in parallel pattern so that no interruption in curriculum will take place. Completion of the Skippack Elementary school addition with new cafeteria, kitchen, attractive all-purpose room, five classrooms and offices make the facilities of both elementary schools in the jointure complete and modern for current educational needs.

Assignment as to grade and school for next term will be placed on the report card of each pupil at the end of the present school year.

Air Force Plans Recovery Units

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force announced it will start next month to set up reserve units in 47 states with a special assignment of helping regular air elements recover from enemy attack.

Establishment of 268 recovery units will begin July 1.

In the wake of an enemy strike these units would provide refueling minor maintenance, security and medical services for returning U. S. aircraft.

Nonmilitary airports will be used, the Air Force said, because "heavy damage can be expected at regular Air Force installations in the event of hostilities."

Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert said, "Since the ability to absorb the first blow and then strike back with sufficient force to win is the heart of deterrence, these reservists will have a vital role in this nation's air defense and offense."

Necessity may render a doubtful act innocent, but it cannot make it praiseworthy.—(Joseph Houbert)

Danger to Community

IS Stowe going to the dogs?

That's a rather startling question, and, of course, the answer is "No." But Stowe has a dog problem. And the people know it.

They've been writing to The Mercury about the packs of dogs that infest the township. Finally, the conscientious Chief of Police Gerald Miner got the township commissioners to agree to a dog-catching crusade.

Chief Miner will make a drive on dog packs after he gets dog-catching equipment. He's worried because with school out, children may be targets of the roving rovers.

He plans to turn over strays to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals, and for that reason got township permission to spend $1 a dog when the SPCA takes over. These unlicensed strays pose the biggest problem.

But dog owners who turn their licensed pets out onto the streets will be prosecuted, Chief Miner said. They'll be prosecuted under a State law which imposes fines up to $100 for infractions.

Miner doesn't want to shoot any pets. But he worries about being plagued by complaints.

"Some people acquire dogs as puppy pets, but when the beasts grow to maturity and present problems of care and training, they shirk the fundamental duties assumed by every dog owner," he said.

Chief Miner and Stowe residents have reason to fear the dog packs. Recent news dispatches are alarming.

In the Chicago suburb of Lake Forest, a society woman was bitten severely about the face when attacked by a dog pack. She was hospitalized four days.

In a half dozen suburbs of New York City dog packs attacked children and sent some to hospitals. In Sante Fe., N. M., a quiet city nestling in the mountains, a double banner line in the newspaper warned citizens about dog packs and demanded immediate action to protect citizens.

There are said to be more than 33 million dogs in the 49 continental states. The dog population is growing. No longer is it safe for the populace to allow dogs to roam at will. They tend to form dangerous packs. GIs who served in Europe during World War II can recall the dangerous dog packs that ravaged villages of Germany.

Chief Miner hopes to abate the danger from roaming dogs in his bailiwick before the dogs days arrive.

Profit For All

MILLIONS owe their jobs today to the work of Thomas A. Edison, the genius who is in the news years after his death on the occasion of the placement of his likeness in the Hall of Fame at New York university.

His ability to earn a profit was an essential part of his inventive history.

In 1862, he was a 15-year-old news vendor on the Grand Trunk railroad. When news of the Battle of Shiloh came into Detroit, young Edison bought 1000 extra newspapers, and persuaded the railroad telegraph editor to message ahead.

Then he sold his nickel newspapers for a dime at each station on the way, as the crowds gathered, anxious for the papers.

His profit he used to buy his first laboratory equipment. Through his life, he used the profit from one invention to finance research on the next.

It is easy to forget the dividends that profit pays to us all—even other people's profits.

The business world around us, which pours out the products we want and provides the jobs we need, couldn't exist without it—let alone grow.

Oh, Mr. Dillon!

IT has been revealed the promoters of a $100-a-plate dinner for President Kennedy in Massachusetts invited $500 contributions to the party—calling attention that donors' names would be printed in the program, and they could thus deduct a political gift on income tax returns as an "advertising expense."

Yet, the Internal Revenue service will disallow deductions for political contributions, and it will disallow advertising for the purpose of influencing political affairs—except in such a case as this.

What motive could a $500 donor have other than to help out the party, or influence political action?

It's time to pass the Boggs Bill, and legalize legitimate spending on public affairs. It's the right thing to do.

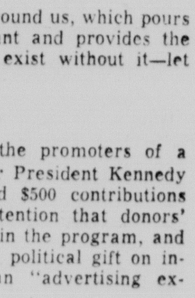
And certainly there should be no objections from politicians who cry for closing tax "loopholes" other than the one they are using themselves.

Grampaw Oakley

PUNKIN CORNERS,
June 8.

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where in Cleveland some 300 pretzel company drivers went on strike, idling several baking plants. This is a bit of a news switch — a case of something crooked NOT going on!



Even scientists sometimes like to play tricks. Ambrosia is the beautiful name of that worst of plant pests—the ragweed.

And say: It's an old belief fat folk are gifted with a sense of humor. How true—if they can keep smiling while standing on the bathroom scales!

Hopin' you air the same,

We're Moving Down Path of Apathy

How Far Have We Slipped?

To the Editor: I wonder how many Mercury readers stop to think, when they read the headlines and stories of the struggle against communism around them, just how far down the path of national apathy their nation has slipped?

To point out what I mean, I will use a few well known expressions attached at one time or another to American democracy.

Remember Theodore Roosevelt's doctrine of "speak softly and carry a big stick". What's become of it? Nowadays we shout to the world our intentions, but are afraid someone might be offended if we bared the "big stick" of Roosevelt's time!

Another T. R. innovation was "the great white fleet". But talk of sending an American fleet around the world today, and Oh! horrors, what will our allies think! Somebody afraid they might think we've regained some of the gumption we had 60 years ago?

Remember the sayings, "keep your nose to the grindstone," "Put your shoulder to the wheel", and "I have not yet begun to fight"?

Here's how they might sound today:

"Keep your nose to the grindstone, but make sure the sparks don't fly and ignite an international incident".

"Put your shoulder to the wheel, but not more than 40 hours per week, or you'll be thrown out of the union".

"I have not yet begun to fight, and I can't until I get approval from the United Nations, the Organization of American States, the World Council of Churches and the Boy Scouts of America".

It's about time Americans started remembering the only place to go when you stop going up in this world is down!

Schwenksville P. A. TRIOT

Act Like Americans!

To the Editor: Giving tanks to Castro is out and out bribery—pure and simple. Call it by any other name you wish but it is ransom with a capital "R."

I say it's time we stiffen our backbone and act the way red-blooded Americans should act and show the Communists we will not be pushed around. Are we mice or men?

Sanatoga NO TRIBUTE

'Nation Of Idiots'

To the Editor: Are we a nation of such idiots that we imagine we can successfully send a peace corps to other countries of Asia and Africa when we cannot maintain peace within our own country?

In the preamble to the Constitution we read the phrases: "in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

Nowhere does it say or imply that these blessings are only for members of a select race or religion.

I seriously suggest that the first contingent of the peace corps be used in our own United States to teach civics, social science, and human relations to those natives who hold other races in poverty and subjugation.

Pottstown RD FRIEND

Bribe To Castro

To the Editor: Submission to wrong never brings a right solution.

Those 500 bulldozers to Castro and all the bribes we will pay in the future will not forestall the final reckoning out the outcome of that reckoning is more and more in doubt as proneness to compromise basic principles becomes more and more evident.

Douglassville M.T.

Nix To Tractors

To the Editor: If anyone approaches me for a contribution to purchase tractors for the payment of ransom to Castro, he will be told where to go to—pronto.

Our government is so concerned about how other nations feel toward us and how to maintain their respect for us.

The chief executive should be concerned as to whether the American citizen still respects the government of our own country.

I don't believe we should pay blackmail to anyone even though such action is encouraged by our President.

Let's stop pretending we are living in a fairyland and wake up to the fact that there are many unsavory characters lurking about —one of whom is Castro.

The Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Broadway Bulletin Board

RICHARD ROGERS has taken an intense interest in Diahann Carroll's career. A few days before he left for England, he had cocktails with her and told her that although he had nothing specific in mind at the moment, he hoped to do a Broadway show with her in the starring role. And after he'd been in London only a week, the composer had his secretary call her to say that he'd found "a writer of great interest" who might tailor a musical comedy to fit Diahann's talents.

Pals of ex-Queen Soraya say that her wedding to Hugh O'Brian might depend on her willingness—or unwillingness—to put her father on the spot. Her dad is still in business with her former husband, the Shah of Iran, and royal circles believe the Shah would be extremely irked if his discarded empress became plain Mrs. O'Brian, wife of a television hero.

Adam Wade, ably assisted by the prom set, broke all weekend records at the Roundtable. He topped the grosses racked up by Red Nichols' Five Pennies and the Dukes of Dixieland.

PRINCESS GRACE of Monaco, due for an official visit to Ireland, has had four fabulous gowns made for the excursion. The Givenchy and Desses salons in Paris got the order.

Tin Pan Alley's big question: Is Dean Martin going to stay on with Capitol Records, or follow the Rat Pack to Reprise?

Betty Hutton, who hasn't been seen on the screen for years, is being talked of for the role of Aimee Semple McPherson, the colorful evangelist of the 'twenties. Explaining Aimee to the present generation will be like explaining Russ Columbo, if that picture ever happens.

Judy Garland has cancelled her Fourth of July weekend booking at the Concord Hotel. It's all perfectly legal; she had a clause in her contract that permitted her to change her mind, and she decided to make the scene at the Newport Jazz Festival instead of in the Catskills.

Frank Werber, who manages the popular Kingston Trio, insists that the group is breaking up. They're signed to Capitol Records, but nothing in the contract says they have to make records unless they want to.

MONIQUE VAN VOOREN planned to star in an off-Broadway production of "Rain" in October, but she may decide against it because of Marilyn Monroe's scheduled performance in the role Sadie Thompson in a television version of the same play.

Quote Monique: "I'm afraid that if Marilyn and I attempt the same part at the same time, reviewers will be more interested in our anatomical measurements than in our acting methods." (Oh, stop worrying, Monique! Most drama critics don't admit they ever watch television.)

The "reformed" Sarah Churchill hopes to bring her new touring stock company to the United States later this year.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

MARY, AGED 48, is one of the dental wives who objected to my scolding women for their sins of omission.

"Why should a man run around," she began belligerently, "when he has 10 children already?"

To which I replied:

"When was the last child born?"

"Oh, about 16 years ago," she said.

So you readers can see the problem here. This faithful wife, like millions of others, apparently thought her erotic function was finished with her last childbirth.

THAT'S A sad mistake that drives thousands of couples into the divorce courts.

If her husband was virile enough to have 10 children, then she should have realized he wouldn't turn off his romantic hunger all of a sudden.

Wives, get hep. Men retain their sex desire all their lives.

And you women should do likewise, for the menopause does not eliminate a wife's ability to function as a thrilling and thrillable mate.

Either you modern American women must permit your husbands to have paramours, a la the French male.

Or you must wake up and get rid of your sins of omission.

"OH, BUT I never rebuff my mate," says the typical wife.

Malarky. You do it without knowing what rebuff is.

"Oh, it's too late," you remonstrate when he acts a little kittenish on Saturday night.

"No, no, I've just taken my bath for church tomorrow."

And then you wives have the gall to tell us doctors you never rebuff your mates.

It is high time you got told off, and that's what I am doing today.

There is a dearth of men in America. So there are plenty of sirens waiting to entice every available man.

When you wives kiss your mate goodbye in the morning, as he heads to work, please remember that you enter a "triangle" that very minute.

For he will meet plenty of women before nightfall who would delight in stealing him from you.

"How to Correct Stuttering", is the subject of a fine booklet you may get by writing Dr. Crane, care of The Mercury, enclosing 20c and a long, 4c stamped envelope.

Inside Television

By EVE STARR

STARR REPORT: After several prominent columnists were caught flat-footed with authentic quotes from Raymond Burr that he would definitely not be returning to "Perry Mason" next season, through CBS, Burr calmly let it be known that he would indeed be returning next season and even for "several seasons."

No one has yet got around to defining "several," but one supposes it has to be a minimum of two.

What Burr was after, as was pointed out here some time ago, was a better deal for himself. He was not particularly thinking about money. What he wanted, quite literally, was a hedge against dying.

In conferences with CBS president Jim Aubrey he made the point that he had been in and out of hospitals ever since the show went into production and he was getting tired of hospitals. He was getting even more tired of the situation that kept putting him into them.

CBS could, of course, have quietly dumped Burr and cast someone else as the redoubtable Perry Mason. The network knew, however, that this would have been tantamount to suicide.

Burr, in the minds of most viewers, is Mason. To attempt to replace him would be sheer folly.

So, at considerable expense to the managament, CBS has agreed to juggle the production schedule so all of Burr's scenes will be shot in a continuous lump, an arrangement which should give him at least one full day off every week.

Actually, this was all Burr wanted. "I would like," he said, with the faintest trace of a smile, "a chance to live." And he meant it quite literally.

DETERMINATION: The success that Eddie Fisher is enjoying at the Desert Inn in Vegas did not come by accident.

It is the result of some very hard work. Few people remember when Eddie was called to attend Elizabeth Taylor during her near fatal illness he was, himself, still recuperating from surgery.

He had been stricken with a very severe appendix attack in Paris and had been rushed to London for surgery.

Two weeks of standing by during Liz's illness further took the starch out of him.

Interpreting The News

'Operation Futility' Plagues West

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Despite Premier Khrushchev's unyielding insistence on a built-in veto against all policing arrangements under international agreements, the United States will send representatives to Geneva next month to make another start on disarmament talks.

The immediate issue will be the makeup of a new conference under a resolution passed by the last United Nations General Assembly. The Russians keep pressing for representation by a large number of nations, making for what the Western powers consider an unwieldy group designed purely to provide a background for propaganda.

Before a decision is made on that point, however, the United States will have to decide what to do about the unpoliced ban on atomic testing which the Soviet Union obtained through the mere tactic of 2½ years of talking.

The Soviets have completely refused a treaty which does not include a veto on investigation of possible violations within Soviet territory. Now they ask that the test ban question be incorporated in the general disarmament discussions.

In the meantime, President Kennedy is under pressure for an end to the voluntary embargo in favor of production of small nuclear weapons and for peaceful experimentation.

One experiment which is being held up is an attempt to create a harbor, through atomic explosion, in an isolated area of Alaska.

The Soviet suggestion for carrying the issue into general disarmament discussions which she will deadlock lays the groundwork for a propaganda campaign alleging that the United States disregards both the fears and welfare of people in general with regard to fallout, and their hopes for disarmament as well.

These fears and hopes among smaller nations are behind the Kremlin's desire to enlarge the disarmament discussions, in the belief that such nations will bring pressures on the West for agreements at any cost.

One of the major desires of the Communist leaders is to inveigle the West into some sort of agreement which would imply the placing of trust in their word alone. This would be a tremendous counter with uncommitted nations which are acquainted with the historical Soviet record of duplicity.

The West is not to be inveigled. Instead, the test ban and disarmament negotiations will fail some more. This will just about coincide with complete realization by the world that the Communists have no intention of abiding by any agreement they may make now about the neutrality of Laos.

Then will come the time for decision as to just how long the West will continue to enter into these "Operations Futility" before settling down to win the cold war instead of just talking about it.

MAN IS HIT BY BOLT OF LIGHTNING

ed the fallen trees and cleared them away.

EARL W. BRUNNER, 184 Main street, suffered shock when his garage burst into flames after a lightning bolt. Trappe firemen were answering this call when the tornado struck.

They also extinguished a fire in the basement of the home of Gunnar Rambo, chief fire company engineer. Roofs were torn off several buildings and numerous chimneys were destroyed

A large two-story stone and frame barn owned by Joseph Bean, near Spring City, was destroyed as firemen from Royersford, Spring City and Kimberton were hampered by lack of water supply. Hay, garden implements and tools stored in the partially-insured barn were lost in the blaze.

Lightning struck the John Smale home on Spring City road, in East Vincent township and started a fire which was brought under control by the Ridge and Norco Fire companies.

JOHN C. HORVAT, 433 May street, apparently struck by lightning, was treated for shock at Pottstown hospital, and was in good condition shortly after being admitted.

In Pottstown, streets were flooded, electric power was interrupted and branches were stripped from trees. The electrical failure lasted from 5:45 p. m. to 6:45 p. m. in the north end of the borough. Other brief interruptions occurred at scattered locations throughout the borough when falling tree limbs took down power lines.

The 600 block of Beech street was among the spots where lines were down. The Good Will Fire company responded to a call there.

A bolt of lightning struck a television antenna on the Richard Whitman home, Linfield. The lightning jumped 40 feet to an 8 inch thick kitchen wall, penetrated the wall and blew up the television set and knocked out the electricity.

Mrs. Whitman walked out of the kitchen to fasten the front door just seconds before the lightning struck. She would have been standing where the bolt came through the wall.

SEVERAL LARGE trees, including locusts and cherry trees, were uprooted on the White Memorial home property in Parker Ford.

Lightning struck a barn on the property and split the door asunder. Witnesses described the winds in that community of being "hurricane force."

The violent storm passed there several moments before it struck in Trappe. It may have been the same "tornado" hedge-hoping. Observers said the Trappe storm seemed to come from the southwest — from Chester county.

Three chicken houses were flattened at the corner of King street and Lewis road in Royersford a few moments later.

Witnesses described a "twister" whipping around Jerry's Market at 320 Lewis road. Mrs. Marcella Polischeck, Pottstown RD 3, a customer in the store and an expectant mother, was thrown to the floor by the force of the storm entering the front door. Stock was disrupted.

LIGHTNING knocked down a large tree on the Spring-Ford Country club golf course. Spring City residents reported heavy hail, and snow-like precipitation mixed with the downpour that followed shortly after 5 p. m.

A fallen wire at Rosedale drive and Wilson street set fire to a nearby tree, bringing out local companies. The borough fire horn at the height of the storm — 5:30 p.m. — brought a flood of calls to The Mercury inquiring about the storm damage.

The Boyertown area from the Halfway House northward was lashed by a heavy storm accompanied by lightning and thunder between 5 a.m. and 7 a.m., but was bypassed by the evening onslaught.

The temperature, which reached 81 degrees Thursday afternoon, now has passed the 80-degree mark seven of the last eight days —the longest spell of such warmth since late last June.

The low this morning will be about 65 under a cloudy sky. Fog and haze are expected by daybreak, with increasing humidity and mostly cloudy conditions today. The high will be near 85, followed by thundershowers late in the day or at night.

Tomorrow should bring a return to good weather, with a high near 80 and a generally fair day.

CLEANUP STARTS—In an impressive display of power, Nature flexed its muscles Thursday afternoon, and trees, wires, and roofs came tumbling down. In the aftermath, area residents began digging out and cleaning up. Shown above, Ralph Zollers, 386 Main street, Trappe, operates a tractor as Trappe residents pitch in to clear away the debris along Route 422. Burgess Willard W. Stevens looks on.

got very dark and still outside," said Mrs. Ronnald W. Wanamaker, 345 Main street.

"I looked out the window and saw a thick, hazy column way off to the south. But I didn't think much of it, and went back to the 'phone.

"A few minutes later, the 'phone went dead, the lights went out, and all I could see outside was a swirling white haze.

"The whole house shook and the noise was terrific," she added.

EUGENE A. MOLLIER, 515 Main street, was called to the home of Earl W. Brunner, 184 Main street shortly before the tornado struck.

Brunner, working in his garage during the driving rain that preceded the tornado, was struck by lightning. Mollier, part of a Trappe Fire company rescue team, was directed to investigate reports of a fire at the scene.

He was standing at the corner of Fifth and Main streets, directing the truck, when "the thing" hit him.

"I went over to the truck just before it hit to get a raincoat. As I walked back to the corner, the thing hit me," he related an hour later.

"It spun me around completely and started to blow me across the street. I grabbed a telephone pole and held on tight.

"If it hadn't been for that pole, I'd have been blown clear across the street into a window."

"It lasted just a couple of minutes", Mollier said. "You could still hear the trees cracking and falling down".

MRS. MARGARET SCHLICHTER, one of the residents of the ill fated apartment house, was driving home on Route 422 from work at Superior Tube company, Evansburg, when the "storm blew my car off the road".

"It was raining so hard all I could see was what looked like a dirty gray pillar coming at me. Next thing I knew my car was in the ditch on the side of the road", she said.

Mrs. Orner and Mrs. Minnick were sitting in the kitchen of Mrs. Minnick's first floor apartment of the latter battered structure when the rain started.

We left the children in the kitchen and ran out to get my clothes off the line", Mrs. Orner said. "It was hailing hard. I got scared and ran back into the house."

"We sat down to have a cup of coffee till it stopped raining. Then it got deadly still. It was very dark and silent outside", interjected Mrs. Minnick.

"Then the wind started blowing rain in the windows and blew the back door open", she continued.

"We took the children and ran into the living room and huddled in a corner. All we could see was hail and rain going in circles outside, like a whirlpool".

JUST THEN the tornado blew the rear of the roof off the 2½ story structure. Mrs. Orner waited a few minutes, went outside and ran up a back stairway to see what happened.

"The roof and part of the walls were in a heap in my living room and bedrooms. Everything was ruined. There's just nothing left", she said.

"I looked up and all I could see was the sky," she added.

Across the street, at the Trappe firehouse, another firetruck started to pull out of the driveway as the storm knocked the roof off the apartment house.

"The roof spun across the road right at us", said Lee Clark, 13 Pennypacker road, assistant fire chief riding the back of the truck.

MARVIN B. ZOLLERS, 171 East Seventh avenue, was at the wheel of the truck. Beside him was Michael S. Wojton, 159 West Seventh avenue.

"They saw the roof coming just in time", Lee related. "Luckily they ducked as a corner struck the front and windshield of the truck".

"It knocked out the windshield and dented in the front of the truck. The whole section of roofing landed in a heap next to us," he commented.

Within minutes after the cyclone hit, four trucks of the Trappe company and 40 men were dispatched. Later they were joined by five units and 50 men from Collegeville fire company.

They spent the next three hours cutting up felled trees, which blocked Main street, Route 422 and bottlenecked the rush hour traffic. Traffic was at a standstill until shortly before 8 o'clock.

PHILADELPHIA Electric company sent in 11 men and two trucks to untangle the mazes of downed high tension lines cluttering most of the town.

When they tried to restore service at 7:30 o'clock, a fire started from a live wire in the basement of Gunnar L. Rambo's house, 550 Main street.

While wooden joists and live wires smoldered in his basement, Rambo, chief engineer for the Trappe company, was four blocks away directing crews cutting up the downed power lines. The fire was brought under control quickly.

Out front, firemen were cutting up Rambo's two huge, stately Norwegian spruce trees, knocked down by the storm.

Mayor Willard W. Stevens estimated 200 trees were damaged along Main street alone. An orchard owned by Ralph Wismer, 378 Main street, was leveled.

Power was restored to the town shortly after 9:30 o'clock. Many telephones will be out of order until late this morning.

Pupils Are Honored By St. Pius High School

Outstanding pupils at St. Pius X High school were honored Thursday night at a dinner. Among the pupils, six had unbroken records of scholastic achievement.

The importance of intellectual growth and the developing of latent power was stressed at the Scholastical Awards dinner of St. Pius X High school in Maria Assunta ballroom. The dinner was sponsored by the Mother's association of St. Pius.

Principal speaker of the evening was Brother Daniel Bernian, president of La Salle college.

"Many people graduated from high schools think they know all the answers," he said, "but it is not until much later they realize how little they know. This is the beginning of development."

BROTHER BERNIAN also stressed the importance of humility — a relationship with God—with the ability to put what is learned into action.

"The middle of the road days are going," he said. "We are getting to the point where we will have to take sides—and we must be convinced what we have been taught in church, schools and home is the answer to the 20th century."

At the beginning of the ceremonies, The Rev. Francis J. Kimble, principal of St. Pius High school, made a welcome announcement to the many pupils assembled at the dinner. He informed them the St. Pius baseball team won the Catholic league championship.

Graduates honored with plaques for their academic achievement, and the number of quarters for which they were honored, were:

Joseph Forro, Kathleen Friel, Lorraine M. Palladino, Geraldine M. Prior, Joanne Carelli, and Marie A. Chomyn, 16 quarters; Julia E. Spoehr, 15 quarters; John Chenosky and Antoinette M. Klokis, 14 quarters; Ronald J. Gawell, 13 quarters; Carol Roney, Theresa Harbach, Dennis Psota, Louise Frederick and Rudolph Karkosak, 11 quarters; Donna M. Breslin and Paul Bobinsky, 10 quarters; Katherine M. Sheeler, nine quarters; Eileen M. Pickar and Victoria Sengia, eight quarters.

There are four quarters to a school year. Sixteen quarters is the greatest number any pupil can be honored.

Juniors honored with certificates were:

Patricia Lew, Paul C. Marshall, Clair M. Moyer, Andrea L. Seyler, Richard Husted, Carole Keil, Jan Newcomb, Louis J. Cutillo, Elena DiNardo, Sharon A. Friel, and Geraldine Sperat, 12 quarters;

Ray Bomberger, Dolores Murphy and Thomas Lapinski, 11 quarters; Virginia Trapani, Nancy Haffey, and Mary F. Dougherty, 10 quarters; Mary E. Rudy, Mary Ann Rodgers, Virginia Yarnall, and Patricia Peroni, nine quarters;

Walter J. Steck, Rosalie Piontkowski, and Edward S. Krolidowski, eight quarters.

Sophomores honored with certificates were:

Joan A. Palladino, Frank J. Vapniarek, Joanne M. Sikorski, Patricia Parchinski, Dorothy M. Kozel, Marilyn C. Hennessey, James P. Cain, Jacqueline M. Antonio, Janet M. Panfile, Ellen McNichol, Frank Koiro, Nicholas Colasanti, and Sandra Kuback, eight quarters.

ANOTHER VICTIM—The Chinese maze claimed another victim Thursday—with an assist from the violent thunderstorm—as a huge tractor trailer bogged down at the intersection of Routes 100 and 183. The truck, owned by the Wensel truck rental company, Linfield, was traveling west on Route 183 when its right front wheel sunk into a recently covered excavation ditch. The truck was marooned for more than an hour before a Linfield wrecker succeeded in freeing it. North Coventry Patrolman Howard Seabold, who investigated the mishap, said the rain apparently softened the ground.

Your Horoscope

The Stars Say—By ESTRELLITA

For Today

ORIGINAL ideas, backed by smart action, should yield good results now. The day will also be a fine one in which to seek and bestow earned favors, to strenghthen friendships and, generally, to broaden the scope of worthwhile activities.

For The Birthday

If today is your birthday, you should find the year ahead marked by satisfactory progress where worthwhile goals are concerned. There may be some periods — mostly in September and November — where job and financial problems could occur, but not if you make up your mind now that for the balance of the year you'll be conservative. These situations will arise only if you are extravagant, speculate foolishly or become impatient or rebellious over new responsibilities, refuse to adapt to new conditions.

October and December hold promise of fine co-operation from others — especially superiors and co-workers — which augurs well for job matters. Look for a stimulating social life from now on through September and some very pleasant news of a business and/or financial nature in December. Generous planetary influences govern travel in August; promise new romance and/or marriage, for the single, during July, October and December.

A child born on this day will be endowed with the talents needed to be a highly talented writer and will have a great love of music.

3 From Family Receiving Diplomas From 3 Different Schools

Three members of the Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rothenberger family, 211 Fourth street, East Greenville, are receiving diplomas.

A son, Ray Rothenberger, will receive his masters degree in history at Lehigh university Sunday. He has taught at Upper Perkiomen High school for the past three years and was perviously graduated from Albright college. A veteran of two years in the United States Army including a one and one-half year tour in Japan, he is married to the former Ethel Moyer of Red Hill. They reside at 220 Jefferson street, East Greenville, with their infant son.

Two daughters complete the graduation scene. Florence M. Rothenberger received her bachelor of science degree in education at Kutztown State college last week. She will teach in the Sayre Joint Schools.

The youngest of the trio, Grace Rothenberger, will be graduated from Upper Perkiomen High school in the academic course on Tuesday. She is expected to enter the Lankenau Hospital School of Nursing in Fall.

English Channel Wins Against Bathtubbers

DOVER, England (AP) — The English Channel defeated two men who tried to cross it in a motor-driven bathtub and another who tried to walk across on water skis.

The bathtub kept going for five hours and got 14 miles out from shore. At that point, students Alan Witt, 21, and John Rowe, 19, decided the sea was too choppy and turned back.

Alex Wozniak, 46, a Pole living in Britain, gave up after two hours of trying to propel himself across the channel on 12-foot water skis. He used paddle-bladed sticks to push six miles out from shore. It was his fourth unsuccessful try in two years.

Two Milligans Deliver Speeches

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP) — General manager Harry S. Milligan of the daily Binghamton Sun-Bulletin was asked to address a service club in nearby Nichols.

The man who made the request called three weeks later to remind him of the date. But he called the wrong man — Harry F. Milligan, vice president of the Marine Midland Trust company.

The Marine Midland's Milligan checked his calendar, saw that he had nothing scheduled, and said he'd be there.

Both men appeared at the dinner. The Sun-Bulletin's Milligan spoke on "The Free Press in Troubled Times," and the Marine Midland's Milligan gave a short talk on "Confusion."

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love & Marriage

A Wife Who Doesn't Deserve Her Good Fortune

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

For five years I've been married to a man who is a traveling salesman, which leaves me home alone a good deal, but I've always tried to keep myself busy and happy doing things with the many friends I have.

About five months ago at a party at the home of one of these friends I met a man I seemed to take to immediately and he to me and at the end of the evening he asked if he could take me home.

A few evenings later he called and asked if I'd have dinner with him and after that we began to date pretty regularly during my husband's absences, and always had wonderful times together.

So perhaps you can imagine how shocked I was when I suddenly found out he was married. When I asked him about it, he admitted it and said he hadn't told me because he had been planning to get a divorce as soon as he found someone he'd like to marry and he was ready to do it now if I'd marry him, so he hadn't seen any reason for telling me at all.

For a long time I'd been thinking I was falling in love with him and when I heard he wanted to marry me, I was sure of it, so I said I'd also get a divorce.

My husband took it hard when I told him, but he said if that was what I wanted, he wouldn't stand in my way. After this man told his wife, she left him, and I understood he was going to get his divorce right away, as I was.

I went to another state where I'd have to stay for some weeks before getting the divorce and when I finally got home I was dumbfounded to find the man I thought I was going to marry was back with his wife again.

He got in touch with me right away and said they were only living together temporarily while they made some necessary decisions.

I went to stay with my parents and who should come to see me one evening but my former husband, who had heard this man had gone back to his wife. He told me he didn't believe the man was ever going to marry me, that he himself still loved me and wanted me back.

Now I don't know what to do, I'm so confused. In some ways, I'd like to go back to my husband because he was always good to me, but if I remarried him and then found I still loved the other man, what a mess that would be. So how do I find out where I stand?

MARY L.

Dear Mary:

If you can't see that this other man is a fraud, then I don't think much of your ability to reason. I don't think much of a lot of your other qualities, either.

The story this fellow gave you about why he hadn't told you he was married in the first place was utter nonsense and undoubtedly made up to cover the fact that he wanted to play around with you for awhile.

I can't imagine why you should have any doubt about what to do, but since you do have, then ask your former husband, a most amazingly long-suffering and devoted person—if he'd be willing to let you have some time to straighten yourself out before making up your mind.

But if you don't decide to remarry him and spend the rest of your life trying to make up to him for using his absences to deceive him and showing him how grateful you are for your astonishing good fortune in getting him back, then you simply don't recognize good fortune when you see it—and don't deserve it.

JUNIOR HIGH BOUNDARY LINE STILL IN AIR

a NAACP proposal and shift the line at the West end of town from an alley between Fourth and Fifth streets to Eighth street?

3. Should the board only consider that which was easiest for the administration in laying down the line; or

4. Should the parents of children involved be given a chance to voice their opinions?

No definite answers were given.

Superintendent of Schools Havard E. Fosnocht explained the alternatives this way:

"The line we agreed on at the February meeting ran east along on alley between Fourth and Fifth streets through Pottstown cemetery to Pine alley, along Pine alley to Thomas street, south on Thomas street to Beech street and east on Beech street to Keim street. From here it cuts South to the borough line," he pointed out.

IT WAS HERE the principal objections cropped up. The NAACP questioned both the wisdom and the fairness of the Pine alley line.

It maintained this line would send some 80 pupils originally designated for entrance to Northern Junior High school to Central Junior High school.

It launched a full scale investigation into charges of segregation in the board decision. A fact finding panel also was set up by Attorney Joseph A. Suchoza.

The NAACP's answer was this proposal, brought out by Fosnocht:

"It proposes we shift the Western end of the line North to Eighth street and leave the center of the line on Lincoln avenue, instead of along Pine alley," he said.

"But why shift the line that far North?" he queried.

"Instead, why not compromise and draw the line along the alley between Fifth and Sixth streets?"

* * *

BUT HE admitted this would send 42 pupils already assigned to Northern Junior High school to the newly renovated Central Junior High.

The alley line of demarkation would send 32 pupils to Central if approved.

"If we accept the NAACP line, we'd have to pick out one house and say, 'those to the north go to Northern, and those to the south to Central Junior High school' ", he explained.

"This is because the NAACP line doesn't run through to north Manatawny street", he noted.

Marquette, who opposed the new line from the start, cut in, "Why didn't you point out these things earlier?"

R. B. "Mike" Hunter followed with, "Your plan is almost the same as the NAACP's", and Fosnocht admitted that it "approximates it".

But he countered with the point "the NAACP line would throw too many children into Northern Junior High from the center of town".

"We definitely would have to make adjustments in the boundary later on. First of these would be in the Southeast sector of the borough.

"The line could be shifted north from the river to Queen street. Eventually, as the North End of town develops, it could be moved farther north to High street," he recommended.

MRS. STRUCKMANN asked Fosnocht if he thought the board's acceptance of an NAACP proposal or independent action by the board was "considerate of the taxpayers."

"I think we should discuss the matter with the people on Fifth and Sixth streets before we settle on anything", she expressed.

"Why should we favor the NAACP over these people?" she asked. "These people are the ones concerned. I feel it's unfair. They're the ones who stand to be hurt.

"After all, we already told them their children are going one place. If we change now without asking them, it will be unfair.

"But if we throw more pupils to Northern, we'll be recreating the old overcrowded conditions," Fosnocht stressed.

* * *

NORTHERN Junior High school has a rated capacity for the coming year of 750 pupils. The original line set by the board would send 711 pupils there.

Central Junior High school was rated by the State as suitable for 660 pupils.

Hofheinz moved final decision be deferred then, and Mrs. Struckmann asked, "why wait for the people to ask for consideration? We already gave it to the NAACP."

"Why not call a public meeting?" she asked.

"It would be different if we hadn't already adopted a dividing line," she added.

BOARD PRESIDENT H. Bert Shaw felt "we'd only be defeating our own purpose by holding a meeting.

"First we tell the people where their children will go, and then we'd be asking why they don't want to", he commented.

The disputed boundary line originally was drawn up by Leonard S. Miller, principal of Central Junior High school.

Its purpose was to decide which pupils from four borough elementary schools would attend his school.

In addition to Mrs. Struckmann, Hofheinz and Marquette, Carl M. Binder, since resigned from the board, opposed the boundary line.

Those favoring it in the first meeting were Shaw, Hunter, Charles L. Rohland and William H. Yohn.

Shaw, Hunter and Rohland remained steadfast in their views Thursday. Yohn was not present.

According to Board Secretary Linford F. Moyer, the deadline for agreement on the dividing line is June 21, when notifications of where Junior High pupils will report in September must be sent out.

'VERY GOOD' RATING GIVEN TO ROBERTS

included:

"The administration and staff of the Owen J. Roberts school were unusually well prepared for the visit of the evaluating committee.

"The members appreciated the excellently arranged materials, the very complete arrangements which were made for housing our personnel, and the many courtesies which were extended during the course of the visit.

"Every member of the visiting committee was impressed by your beautiful school building and its lovely site. We found all members of your staff to be friendly, courteous and co-operative. We liked your pupils, probably because they acted like they liked us. Every person with whom we talked was proud of his school.

"The members of the teaching staff evidenced real interest in their pupils. They gave every evidence of believing in the philosophy of their school and of understanding the problems of their community."

IN BREAKING down the school and its program, the following ratings were given (on a basis of poor, fair, good, very good and excellent):

Pottstown Is Backward?

Benjamin C. Steel received 305 nuisance complaints last year.

But that's where the similarity ends.

ALIQUIPPA has a fulltime health officer — Miss D'Ottavio —and a fultime sanitation and a secretary who works parttime for the health department and parttime for the tax collector. Miss D'Ottavio receives $6335, the sanitarian $4000 and the secretary $3250.

Pottstown has a health officer —Steele—who is also the plumbing inspector and his own secretary—for both jobs. He receives a salary of $5500 for all the positions.

"Aliquippa certainly isn't out to waste the taxpayers money anymore than Pottstown or any other city is," Miss D'Ottavio explains. "But it is forward looking enough to recognize the need for a decent public health program."

When she was hired five years ago after serving as operating room supervisor in the nearby Sewickley Valley hospital her instructions were simple: "Give Aliquippa the best possible public health program."

Her background then was strictly one in nursing, but she applied for the job, was selected by the board of health and given immediate approval by the State Health department.

"Many towns only think of hiring a man for the job," she said. "But in many cases I'm sure that a nurse who lives in the town might be glad to take the job — and probably at less money than a man would need to support his family."

(The suggestion to check with the Pottstown Visiting Nurses association was offered at the last health and sanitation committee meeting by Councilman Nicholas A. Palladino but tabled when the committee voted to retain the parttime system "at least for the remainder of the year.")

"In addition to the possible financial saving to the borough," Miss D'Ottavio explained, "a nurse may receive the immediate approval of the State Health department or at least be given a chance to take an examination to qualify for the post."

If a person without previous training is hired for the position, she continued, it means taking the State Health department's environmental sanitation course. The course is nine weeks and given on alternate weeks at the University of Pittsburgh.

WHILE HER instructions were to give Aliquippa the best public health possible, the only requirements were that she be available 24 hours a day and that she attend as many seminars and courses in public health work as possible. The 24-hour-day, naturally, precluded taking any other job.

"Not that I would have time," she laughed. "I thought the job would be 40 hours a week and maybe a call once in a while at night. But if I averaged it out, I think it would come to at least a 45 hour week—every week."

As head of the health department — but responsible to the board of health—her responsibility is "the health of community—from seeing that restaurants are clean to seeing that people keep the weeds cut in the Summer."

The nuisance complaints and the eating and drinking establishment inspections take up almost all of the sanitarian's time and a good bit of hers. There are 109 eating and drinking places and 26 private clubs "which get a very frequent inspection."

* * *

THE STATE Health department requirement is "annually and as often as circumstances require." Miss D'Ottavio interprets the "as often as circumstances require" literally, and may visit "some of those who never seem to learn once a month."

The nuisance complaints, the bane of every health officer, may take anywhere from a five-minute telephone call to four or five trips to see the offender before the problem is solved.

Aliquippa, however, has a serious problem now that Pottstown is just beginning to experience—the transient laborer seeking work. In Aliquippa they look for work in the steel mills. In Pottstown it is the large factories.

"We're mainly a steel town —some 20 miles north of Pittsburgh—and for the past several years as unemployment has risen nationally the number of transients seeking work locally has continued to increase. They come from the South, from the worn out coal fields in northern Pennsylvania, from the hills of Kentucky . . .," she explained.

". . . and they cause health problems. They aren't used to living in sanitary conditions and it causes not only health problems but friction with the people who have lived here all their lives," she continued, adding:

"It's a problem that every industrial town is facing now —or will have to face. And I dont's think Pottstown will be any different."

The health department has met the problem in three ways — a deeper understanding, more rigid inspections to prevent the outbreak of any serious health problem and an expanded education program."

"The deeper understanding comes through working with the people," Miss D'Ottavio explained, "and the more rigid inspections were a necessity if we were to prevent any serious public health problems before they started."

"The education program merely meant the extension and expansion of the education program the department has always had—lectures to school children, talks to clubs and civic organizations, dissemination of information to the public," she explained.

"When the public knows about these problems, they will help solve them," she concluded.

Modern Manners

RULES FOR THE YOUNG SUMMER GUEST

After graduation, lots of young people visit friends who have invited them to spend a week or two at their Summer homes in the mountains or at the beach.

This brings up the question of just what is expected of the visitor when accepting this hospitality. Are there certain cut-and-dried rules that should be followed?

Not necessarily "cut-and-dried," but great care should be taken to make yourself a welcome guest and not a burden on the family you are visiting. Take the following suggestions into consideration and and you won't go wrong!

When plans are made, be sure to set a definite time for arrival and departure. "Come for a few days" is a bad approach on both sides. It may result in your overstaying your welcome. Much better to have it understood that you will arrive on Friday, June 16, and take your leave on Sunday, June 25.

Above all, terminate your visit on the day designated in the original invitation. Even if urged to stay, don't. Leave while you are still wanted, and you can bet another invitation will be forthcoming in the future!

If you wish to take a gift, it is perfectly proper to do so. Rather than simply taking one for the girl you are to visit, why not something that all her family will enjoy? Candy, books or records always fit in well for this purpose. A gift is not obligatory, however.

Upon your arrival, make every effort to fit in with the mode of life of the family you are visiting. For example, if there is no maid in the house and there usually is not, these days), be sure to make your own bed.

Do not leave your clothes all over the place, or leave the bathroom looking as though there had been a flood. Pitch in and help with the cooking, cleaning up after meals, or in any way that you think you can be helpful.

Don't overdo it. If your hostess would prefer that you didn't do something you have offered to help with, let it go at that. You have done your part. If there are certain rules followed by the family, such as breakfast at nine or dinner at seven, be there Don't straggle in when you feel like it.

When you return home, immediately (not day after tomorrow) write a letter to the mother of the girl you have visited, expressing your appreciation for the whole family's kidness to you. A letter to the girl should, of course, aalso be written.

I have aimed the above suggestions towards the girl visitor, but they also apply to the young man who is the guest of one of his chums. Both should make a point of realizing that, when they are guests in someone's home, consideration towards the host's family is a must.

QUESTION: I am a recent bride and I received a set of six silver place settings. I need some serving implements and have been unable to find any in the pattern of the silver I have. Is it all right to have these of another pattern?

MRS. H. P. E.

ANSWER: It is perfectly correct to have serving spoons, forks,etc., in a different pattern than the place settings. Many families have old heirloom silver, and these pieces blend in with the new. If you do not have any of these, purchase what you need in a pattern that does mix well with what you have.

Queen Elizabeth Smiles Approvingly As Duke of Kent Marries Commoner

YORK, England (AP)—His Royal Highness Edward George Patrick, Duke of Kent, wed a country girl called Kate. They drew approving smiles from his cousin Queen Elizabeth II.

Kate—who was Miss Katharine Worsley—didn't get to the church Thursday on time. She was three minutes late for the ceremony through which she became Her Royal Highness, Duchess of Kent.

It was a tardy start by this likable, independent Yorkshire girl, a slim, snub-nosed blonde, for her life as a member of Britain's royal family. But all was obviously forgiven.

Among those she kept waiting in the centuries-old York minster, the Anglican Cathedral, were Queen Elizabeth, Princess Margaret and 28 members of European royalty.

On the arm of her father, Sir William Worsley, Kate took a long walk—160 feet—to the altar. There the new Archbishop of Canterbury, The Most Rev. Arthur Michael Ramsey, conducted the ceremony.

"I, Katharine Lucy Mary," said Kate, "take thee Edward, to be my wedded husband, to have and hold from this day forward, for better or worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health, to love, cherish and obey till death us do part, according to God's holy law, and thereto I give thee my troth."

The dashing duke, handsome in the ceremonial scarlet and blue uniform of the Royal Scots Greys, is 25. His bride is 28.

Her gown was of gossamer white silk gauze with an iridescent thread. She carried a bouquet of white roses. A diamond bandeau topped her silk tulle veil.

The approving smiles of Queen Elizabeth were a contrast to her grim expression at Princess Margaret's marriage to the commoner, Antony Armstrong-Jones, 13 months ago. She beamed most of the time today and occasionally seemed to nod her head.

When her younger sister married Armstrong-Jones her expression was grave. Gossip columnists had hinted the queen was not completely pleased with Margaret's choice. However, there has never been any official confirmation of this.

Margaret's public appearance Thursday was one of her first since it was announced she is expecting a baby. Dressed in a long, loose coat, she walked in the wedding procession with her husband. She clasped her hands in front of her and looked self-conscious.

British TV networks televised the ceremony, using 46 cameras.

Afterward, 2,000 guests gathered at the bride's home, consumed 1,000 bottles of champagne and applauded as the duke and bride cut a 180-pound, five-tier cake with his sword.

About dusk, the newlyweds flew to Scotland for a honeymoon on the royal family's Balmoral estate.

Enthusiasm Undimmed

CINCINNATI, (AP)—Joe Smith was so fascinated with his new radio hobby that a massive power jolt couldn't dim his interest.

Burns on his hands from an 11,000-volt power line sent Smith, 29, to a hospital for seven weeks of skin grafts. But friends set up his citizens band transmitter and receiver in the hospital room and he resumed calls, although limited to five miles around the hospital.

Smith, a refrigerator mechanic, was burned trying to install an antenna for his rig at his Aurora, Ind., home. He won't have to go up on the roof again. He said, "I have a lot of friends and they promised me my antenna would be up by the time I get home."

Groundbreaking at Pine Forge Signals Start of New Adventist Dormitory

Groundbreaking for the new girls' dormitory at the Pine Forge Institute was conducted Thursday afternoon, with E. A. Robertson, secretary of education for the Columbia Union conference of Seventh-day Adventists participating with the local conference officials, superintendent of construction, builders, and school principal - manager.

Elder W. L. Cheatham, conference president, chairman of the Institute board, and Elder W. A. Thompson, the conference secretary - treasurer will act as the directing agents of the Building Committee of the Allegheny Conference, the general contractor.

The structure will set back from the Pine Forge road and will be erected east of the Old Manor House which has served as the main girls' dormitory since the beginning of the Pine Forge Institute 15 years ago.

Specifications call for the building to be 254 feet long, and 45 feet wide, housing 104 girls, giving them the comforts which C. Lee Brooks, principal, said the girls should have.

THE DORMITORY will be of solid masonary, structural steel, concrete floors, with hot water heat.

A complete apartment will be provided for the dean. There will be two guest rooms with baths, snack kit, trunk room, recreational room and storage area. An inter - communication system makes it possible to reach any room in the building from a central office.

There will be a ground floor, first and second stories. Emergency lighting facilities will furnish light for the building whenever needed, regardless of service failure due to atmospheric conditions.

Officials said this project is possible only through the support of the 66 churches in the Allegheny Conference and their pledges to each reach their goal for the building.

Cement walks will surround the building as well as lead in from its approaches. The grounds will be landscaped and appropriate shrubbery planted.

Carl Eisenhower of Reading is the architect, Elder H. D. Dobbins of Cleveland, Ohio is the superintendent, and the Ford Brothers of Pine Forge are the builders.

The building is scheduled to be finished in one year.

Woman Is Heard From Soviet Base

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — American radio operators at McMurdo Sound in the antarctic heard a woman's voice over the radio from the Soviet base at Mirny, the New Zealand Press Association reports. Hitherto, Americans in daily contact with the Soviet antarctic base scoffed at Soviet assertions that women have been stationed there this winter.

Flowers in the church came from the wedding of Alice Cloud, of Thorndale and David Dempsey, of Whitford, which took place on Saturday. The flowers on the Communion table were given by Mrs. Taylor Brown as a birthday memorial for Leona Brown Murdaugh and in memory of Taylor Brown.

On Sunday the Sacrament of Infant Baptism will be administered. Several of the young people who are graduating from high school will participate in the morning worship.

On Saturday afternoon the Youth Fellowship of Fairview will be attending a missionary rally for young people at the Honey Brook Presbyterian church.

100 Tractors Are Ready, Committee Tells Castro

DETROIT (AP) — The Tractors for Freedom Committee Thursday night advised Prime Minister Fidel Castro that it was "prepared to move with dispatch and ship the first consignment of 100 tractors not later than two weeks from today." It also designated a "technical committee" made up of six agricultural and tractor experts to travel to Havana.

• • •

The technical committee of agricultural and tractor experts designated by the committee will arrive in Havana next Monday if the Cuban Prime Minister approves. The committee has asked Castro to advise it of his approval or disapproval of the experts.

The committee in its communique to Castro recommended that the International Red Cross be asked to handle the details relating to the release of the 1,200 prisoners in the proposed trade for 500 tractors.

The reply to Castro, which was signed by Eleanor Roosevelt, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, Walter P. Reuther and Joseph M. Dodge, told the Cuban leader that his "cable dated June 6 dealt with political and propaganda issues beyond the scope or jurisdiction of our committee of private citizens."

The Tractors for Freedom group advised Castro that following the first consignment of 100 tractors, to be shipped no later than two weekks from Thursday, additional consignments of tractors would follow in lots of 100 until the total of 500 was delivered.

The committee's reply went on: "We are prepared to move with dispatch to make these 500 tractors best suited for Cuban agricultural purposes available and we trust you are equally prepared to move with dispatch to release the prisoners."

The group reminded Castro of its insistence that he make available to them without further delay a complete list of the 1,200 prisoners involved so that satisfactory procedures could be developed to verify the identity of those released.

The tractor committee told the Cuban leader, "Our mutual good faith will be measured by our willingness to work out practical details necessary to facilitate the delivery of the agricultural tractors and the release of the prisoners."

The reply continued: "It is therefore imperative that arrangements be made so that the meetings between our technical committee and your representatives will take place under circumstances where serious and constructive discussion of the problems will be possible, free from intrusion by any persons not directly involved."

Named to the technical committee were Prof. Roy Bainer, head of the agricultural engineering department at the University of California; William Bishop, leader of agricultural programs extension service, University of Tennessee; Duane P. Greathouse, director of agricultural implement department, International Union United Auto Workers; C. M. Hansen, assistant professor of agricultural engineering, Michigan State University; J. B. Lilgedhal, professor of agricultural engineering, Purdue University, and E. W. Schraeder, head of agricultural engineering department, Oklahoma State University.

The six-man group will be accompanied by a Spanish-language interpreter.

The committee said earlier it had noted that the tractors requested by Castro through a delegation of 10 prisoners he sent to the United States last month were not the same model of vehicle it is prepared to offer.

The prisoners asked for 300 tractors equipped with bulldozer blades and 200 equipped with devices for use in agricultural projects.

A committee spokesman agreed that the tractors offered did not meet the demand, but said that Castro asked for a model D-8 which is "very rarely used anywhere for any agricultural purpose."

The D-8 normally is used for construction purposes, he said. The committee said 50 of the 500 tractors it is offering can be used for clearing land, the rest those which are "best adapted to Cuban agriculture."

The committee said 55,000 pieces of mail have piled up at its mail box in Detroit. But it said it is not keeping any count of incoming financial donations.

$6 Million Is Given To Former Islanders

TOKYO (AP) —The United States has given $6 million to compensate 7,000 former residents of Iwo Jima and the Bonin Islands who were left stranded in Japan by World War II.

The United States has taken over administration of the islands for military bases and declared them restricted areas.

U.S. Ambassador Edwin O. Reischauer, handing over the check Thursday to Foreign Minister Zentaro Kosaka, said the money was being given to help the displaced persons establish new means of livelihood in Japan.

Three Children Are Suffocated In Freezer

CONCORD, N. H. (AP) — Two brothers and a playmate, the oldest 6, suffocated Thursday when they became trapped in a home freezer at a West Concord apartment.

The tragedy occurred in the home of the brothers, Keith Loughry 6, and Glen Loughry, 4. The third victim was William Anderson, 4, who lived next door.

The freezer had been in the Loughry apartment only a week and was not yet in use. Investigators found an inside light dangling from its cord inside the freezer, indicating the children made frantic efforts to escape when they found themselves trapped.

The children were missed by Mrs. Thomas Loughry and she and a neighbor, Beverly Egounis, scoured the neighborhood looking for them.

Another neighbor told Mrs. Loughry he had seen the boys playing on the Loughry porch, where the freezer is located.

After a search of the five-room second floor apartment, Mrs. Egounis lifted the lid of the freezer and saw the boys—two in a large compartment and the other in a smaller section.

Officials said the boys had been in the freezer an hour when they were found.

• • •

Police, firemen and rescue units worked frantically using mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and oxygen in a vain attempt to revive the children.

Dr. Anthony D. Bower, acting medical referee, said the deaths were due to asphyxiation.

The Loughrys, whose apartment is located over a market, have another son, Thomas, 9.

The father is a wagon driver for a feed store.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Anderson, parents of the third victim, have two other children, a daughter, 13 and a son, 7. Anderson is a maintenance man at the Christian Science Home in Concord.

Senate Upsets Key Provision In Housing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate dealt President Kennedy's $6.19-billion housing bill a crippling, surprise blow Thursday, knocking out the provision for 40-year home loans to moderate-income families.

The upset came on a 49-44 vote, with 30 Republicans and 19 Democrats voting for the Democrat-sponsored change.

• • •

Arguing against it, Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., floor manager for the bill, said to knock out the provision "will strike the heart out of this bill."

The Senate had rejected two Republican attempts to whittle it down.

The provision would have permitted government-insured, 40-year, no-down-payment loans for individuals in the $4,000-$5,000 income bracket to buy homes.

It has been one of the most controversial parts of the housing bill, one of the five top priority measures in the program of President Kennedy.

Until the surprise vote, administration leaders had been confident they could hold the bill substantially unchanged.

LAOS TALKS POSTPONED INDEFINITELY

Gromyko Says His 'Pockets Are Empty'

GENEVA (AP) — The 14-nation conference on Laos was postponed indefinitely Thursday because of fighting at the mountain-top village of Padong. And the Soviet Union apparently had nothing to say that would get the talks going here again.

In Washington, President Kennedy said the United States is not giving up efforts to negotiate on Laos.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko returned to the conference from Moscow, but told newsmen, "My pockets are empty."

Britain, as cochairman of the conference, postponed the talks indefinitely because of "apparent serious violation" of the cease-fire by pro-Communist Laotian rebels.

There was hope that Gromyko would bring instructions from Soviet Premier Khrushchev that would break the deadlock over Western demands that the International Control Commission in Laos be given power and equipment to establish an effective cease-fire. Khrushchev agreed with President Kennedy in their talks at Vienna last weekend on the importance of a cease-fire.

Gromyko's words to newsmen as he stepped from his plane sounded discouraging, however. He said nothing about any new instructions.

Gromyko said he had come to resume the conference.

"We still believe that if all parties are willing it is possible to reach agreement," he said. "I repeat, if all parties are willing."

Though American delegates in Geneva first talked of going home after Thursday's postponement, Kennedy in Washington said they would remain here in the hope of resuming negotiations.

"I think we'll stay at Geneva and see if we can come to a neutral and independent Laos," he said.

British Navy Fights Pirates Off Borneo

LONDON (AP)—The British navy is fighting a running war with pirates off the coast of North Borneo, the admiralty reports. C. Ian Orr-Ewing, civil lord of the admiralty, told the House of Commons the navy seized three pirate vessels and arrested 35 pirates last month.

President Keeps a Promise

President Kennedy keeps a 15 month old promise by greeting the senior class of Tomah, Wis., High school in the White House rose garden. Here, the President accepts a gift basket from Ronald Lowe, a Winnebago Indian member of the class. Boy's mother made the gift. While campaigning in Wisconsin, Kennedy invited the pupils to visit him in Washington.

Kennedy Flies to Florida For Period of Relaxation

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy returned with an ailing back Thursday to the same strip of Atlantic shore where he fought back to health after a near fatal back injury and operation more than six years ago.

This time the trouble is far less serious, the White House says, and should yield to treatment fairly soon. And this is the place he can get what his doctor, Janet Travell, prescribed — plenty of swimming in a warm pool.

Dr. Travell flew down from Washington with Kennedy Thursday to keep close tabs on her chief charge.

Kennedy suffered a nagging back strain shoveling dirt in a tree-planting ceremony May 16 at Ottawa, Canada. In 1954 and 1955, Kennedy spent months here at the ocean front villa of his parents, recuperating from damage to his spine that had required delicate operations.

This time, he is putting in three days at another villa, a mile and a half away, that has a heated, salt water swimming pool. It belongs to friends of the Kennedys, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Wrightsman.

Aides said there would be no work and no golf, either, before Kennedy takes off Sunday evening for Washington. A favorite golfing companion, New York banker Charles Spalding, accompanied Kennedy to this southland resort.

Spalding, Kennedy aides said, is the only other guest at the Wrightsman villa. The President is using it, as he did early last month for a long weekend, because the Kennedy place is closed for the season.

The chief executive brought along his French cook, Rene Verdon, and his valet, George Thomas.

Dr. Travell and members of the White House staff are staying at the Palm Beach Towers Hotel.

A jet flight just short of two hours brought Kennedy down from Washington. Kennedy smiled coming down the steps of the ramp from the plane after it touched down. He did hold onto the railing, but there was a difference of views among onlookers as to whether he showed any signs of discomfort. And he had no difficulty getting in and out of the top-up convertible in which he rode to the Wrightsman home.

Specialists Say Trip to Europe Hindered President's Recovery

WASHINGTON (AP) —Washington specialists say President Kennedy's latest back injury might have healed by now if he hadn't had such a heavy schedule of travel around Europe.

They described his injury as a not-uncommon thing from which, as a rule, most people recover in a couple of weeks under conservative treatment, including rest.

It has been over three weeks since the President strained his back lifting a spade of dirt at a ceremonial tree planting in Canada.

Kennedy's injury is technically known as a lumbosacral strain, can occur during such activities as golf, tennis, heavy lifting and even gardening. You might even get it when arising from a bent-over position

"When I saw that picture of the President lifting dirt in Canada, I thought he might have some trouble," said one doctor who declined the use of his name.

Doctors said they'd judge that due to the heavy schedule Kennedy had to follow on his European trip, he didn't get the rest that would enable his ailment to subside within the usual time. He hurt his back on May 16 and since then has gone to Paris, Vienna and London.

Kennedy's press secretary said the President felt an immediate pain while planting the tree in Ottawa. That is usual in such cases.

Brand New Doctor

ganizing his own office at 232 High street.

* * *

HE HUNG out his plaque at the present site of the Sears, Roebuck and company store and opened for practice April 11, 1887. It would be 64 years later, in 1951, when he stopped his active practice.

Dr. Porter recalls Drs. Schaetz, Withers, Todd and Long as being the big names in medicine here when he started his practice.

"There were some other fellows, too," he notes. "One, unfortunately, bought his diploma for $75. That was before laws prevented it. That one took a six weeks course.

"He practiced mostly among the Dunkards (religious sect) in Chester county. A quiet old guy . . . he didn't talk much, and when you don't talk much they can't tell what you don't know."

YOU MIGHT visualize a tall, trim young Dr. Porter striding down the board sidewalk along wheel-rutted High street, with the typical black satchel, and a chuckle waiting behind the expressive face—75 years ago.

Pottstown annexed the Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth wards in 1886, and the population jumped from 5300 to 14,000.

It was a time of economic revolution for the town. The boys at Jefferson Medical college had to admit Pottstown was far from backwoods.

Dr. Porter's first patient was William H. Gibble, a sign painter who did the gold-leaf lettering which still can be seen on the door to Dr. Porter's 334 High street office and home.

MR. GIBBLE was the father of Robert S. Gibble, 122 North York street, a driver with the American Express company.

Dr. Porter cannot recall the name of the family which provided him his first maternity case not long after he opened his office.

"It was a family from Stowe. The father came looking for me, and Attorney Mark Richards, who had offices in the same building I did, sent the fellow to see me."

"My wife, she get a baby! She get a baby! Come quick!" the immigrant implored.

It was a natural birth, as were most in those days. Dr. Porter remembers treating it routinely, all in a day's work.

* * *

DR. PORTER brought more than 2500 children into the world in the following 64 years, to the best of his memory. Being conscious of his modesty and tendency to under state his accomplishments, one has to consider the figure must soar much higher.

One way to look at it — he delivered a child once every ten days for 64 consecutive years, on an average!

"I didn't have much trouble, although I was young," Dr. Porter explains. "When I ran into something I coudn't tackle, I went to the men at Jefferson for help," Dr. Porter said.

"The old doctors years ago had a very hard time finding a cause and remedy for sickness. Preventative medicine was developed and became our greatest blessing.

"Things were changing fast then, and doctors kept close to their teachers. That's the way it was with me. I'd keep up with everything through them."

TWO YEARS after his start here, Dr. Porter moved to 310 High street for a short period. In 1892 he purchased the estate of his fine old doctor friend, Dr. Long. The 344 High street property which has been Dr. Porter's home and office ever since was part of the sale.

Dr. Porter's purchase had a dual significance. His business facility was showing along with medical ability. After only five years practice, his thrift had allowed him to begin the real estate transactions which gained him vast and wholesale holdings through the borough over the years.

About the same time, he bought out Cunningham's Drug store, 447 High street. Dr. Porter worked briefly for Cunningham before he went to medical school.

Now he owned the business. His late brother, Samuel H. Porter, learned the pharmacist's trade which he was to follow through more than half a century, and took over the operation of the drug store.

LOOKIN BACK, an observer would comment that Dr. Porter must have been quite a busy young man in the early days of his practice.

And fees were practically nothing—25 or 35 cents for an office visit, 50 cents to call on a patient at home. Within a year, the doctors got together and raised the prices to 75 cents, then to $1.00.

While this sounds inexpensive, Dr. Porter obligingly straightens out the score. "But a working man only earned a dollar a day then. You don't spend a day's wages to see a doctor today."

Across the street from Dr. Porter's office, where the Lessig parking lot now is located, was the great Mary Potts Davies mansion.

THE CIVIC-MINDED young ladies of the King's Daughters organization were holding carnivals on the Davies lawn, beneath the stately trees that stood until a year ago.

The purpose of the carnivals —to raise money so a hospital could be built. This was the beginning of the Pottstown hospital, during 1887.

Dr. Porter and his colleagues had their heads together, making their preparations to staff the new hospital. Pottstown's "grand old man" was unwittingly starting another era for the borough—an era of fine medical facilities for the people of the town.

(Another article in this series will appear tomorrow).

It's younger than Springtime, with the top hair in a crowning pouf, neck hugging waves and guiches (kiss curls) which accent eyes and cheekbones. The gentle bangs are smoothly sophisticated just long enough to flatter your face. It requires an expert to achieve this new style, and the staff at Fifth Avenue Beauty Salon are expert because they constantly take courses, attend shows, and read the latest information from European stylists. They are skilled at a new styling before it becomes popular in America, so they know the techniques of every fashion you may request. Investment Continues Vigorous As Speculation Decreases

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The continued cooling off of speculation is a most welcome pause to refresh the market, a Wall Street analyst said today.

This has extended to hot new issues while investment, as distinct from speculation, still is fairly vigorous, L. O. Hooper of W. E. Hutton & Co. declared.

He finds that one of the best evidences of reduced speculation is the lower volume on the American Stock Exchange, while another is less hectic conditions on the over-the-counter market.

"Those who are buying and selling stocks are not allowing their cupidity to impair their judgment so much as they were recently," Hooper said. "They are taking more time to look things over and find out what they are doing.

"That's all to the good, even though it is not so pleasant for the impatient folks who try so hard to get the thrill of making a fast buck."

Hooper said it's his guess that the market will be better in July and August because it has been having a correction, in the fast-steppers, at least, in May and June.

Even though the Dow Jones industrial average has been holding just below its record high, it is obvious that increased selling pressure is being brought to bear on many sections of the stock list, says Lester Wyetzner of Bache & Co.

He is of the opinion that the decreasing upward momentum in the market's over-all pattern is indicated by action last Friday, Monday and Tuesday. He explains:

Although the Dow Jones industrial average gained more than two points Friday, declines were greater than advances. On Monday the average rose nearly six points yet advances outnumbered declines by only 143 issues, a relatively narrow difference when compared with the action of the average. Tuesday's performance was even more striking. The average gained 0.36 points but at the same time declines outnumbered advances by 203 stocks.

There's nothing obscure about the reasons for the market's current hesitation, comments A. M. Kidder & Co.

"The market is often inclined to take its cue from the steels and these have been under some pressure in consequence of recent price cuts and reduced production estimates," the firm says. "The heavy tone of the motors is not surprising in view of the approaching contract negotiations with the union.

"These and other adverse factors may have a temporary restrictive or depressing effect but we doubt that they will interfere seriously with what appears to be a strong bullish trend.

Each club president received a plant. The tables were decorated with roses and other flowers.

Skinner, Mazeroski Circuit Clouts Knock Dodgers Out of First by 4-2

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bob Skinner and Bill Mazeroski each slammed a two-run homer in the fourth inning Thursday as the Pittsburgh Pirates knocked the Los Angeles Dodgers out of first place by defeating them 4-2.

The Pirate victory dropped the Dodgers a half game behind Cincinnati and put the Pirates a game and one half out of third place.

Bob Friend, who had a seven-game losing streak as a starting pitcher, got the victory with an assist from Bobby Shantz. Friend is 6-7. Shantz shut out the Dodgers on no hits in the last 1 2-3 innings.

Right-hander Stan Williams went five innings for Los Angeles and took the loss, his fifth in nine decisions.

Willie Davis drove in the first Dodger run in the sixth with his 10th homer. Los Angeles scored again in the eighth as Norm Larker singled, took third on a bad bounce single by Maury Wills and came home when shortstop Dick Groat fumbled Jim Gilliam's grounder.

Shantz came on at this point with one out and two men on and retired the next two men.

Mazeroski hit his homer off Williams after Don Hoak drew a walk with two outs.

Skinner's homer was his first. Mazeroski has five.

IT'S SAFE DON—Don Kalavick, St. Pius X second baseman slides under Kenrick Third Sacker Mike Vernocchio in fourth inning of championship game Thursday at Memorial park. Kalavick scored on the play when Vernocchio took throw and fired to second to retire Ed Kelly.

FIELD LAPSE HELPS PIUS' CAUSE IN 4TH

Petro Hurls 1-Hitter In Rain-Shortened Contest

By JERRY RUTTER
(Mercury Sports Writer)

St. Pius X rallied behind the one-hit pitching of Nick Petro to shut out Bishop Kenrick 2-0 and cop the Suburban Catholic title at Memorial park Thursday.

The Saints scored a pair of runs in a hectic fourth inning to annex the crown, and Petro pitched one of his best games of the year. The contest was called with one out in the Kenrick half of the sixth inning because of a cloudburst.

Pius scored both its runs on just one hit in the fourth. Ed Duffy pitched a fine game for the losers but was a victim of some sloppy fielding.

Petro started things off working Duffy for a walk. Butch Marcheski drilled a single to center moving Petro to second, and Don Kalavik followed with a grounder to short that was fielded cleanly by Ed Narducci, who got Petro for the force at third.

MARCHESKI WAS on the run and came all the way home when third basemen Mike Vernocchio heaved a wild peg to first attempting to get Kalavik, who moved to second on the throw.

Ed Kelly, the next Pius hitter, grounded to short and again a throw to third was late attempting to nail Kalavik. Kelly took off for second and was tagged out, but Kalavik, who had slid into third, raced on to the plate with the second run.

Fran Blanche, Kenrick centerfielder lined a single to left field in the first inning for the sole hit off Petro. The fireballing Senior, exhibited fine control, retiring the losers in order in the second and third innings.

Kenrick came up with its nearest thing to a threat in the fourth. Petro registered his fourth and fifth strikeouts on the first two hitters, but Narducci was safe when Marcheski dropped his towering popup between the plate and first for an error.

Narducci stole second. Terry Garrigan worked Petro for a free pass, but the Pius ace fanned Dale Brandt on a 3-2 pitch to end the threat.

Losing chucker Duffy — who beat the Saints last time out—pitched well enough to win most games. In his five-inning stint he allowed just three hits. Petro grounded a double over the third base bag in the first, and Denny Psota singled in the fifth, in addition to Marcheski's single.

CANCELLATION

The Steelers' American Legion game with Collegeville, scheduled this evening, has been canceled because of commencement exercises at Collegeville-Trappe High school. Steelers are requested to report to Enterprise field Saturday at 2 o'clock for practice.

And the Anxiety Stopped

Just Too Much Rain, Pressure, Petro

By WARREN HOWARD

Lady Luck turned her back on Bishop Kenrick Wednesday, as first the Knights' defense collapsed, and then the rain thwarted any chance the "homesters" would have had for a rally.

When the rains first arrived late in the first inning, local fans began grumbling about the luck of Norristown teams—harking back to last Summer.

In that instance the Steelers, seeking a berth in the American Legion State tournament, needed one strike to eliminate Melnick Esso when the rains came at Enterprise field.

A day later Melnick came back to dispatch the Steelers instead.

THE RAIN held off Thursday however, until the Saints had scored twice in a fourth inning that was a comedy of errors for the Knights — the official home team, though the game was played at Memorial park.

It came again—harder in the bottom of the fourth—and sent fans scurrying for the shelter of automobiles as thunder and lightning arrived to add its accompaniment, though it could have been around to sound the Saints' victory over Kenrick—a seldom happenstance.

The game went on, however, with the Knights stalling away and the Saints playing along. Fans attempted to prod more speed out of the Saints and Plate Umpire Hal Tyson.

Fans moaned that all was lost as the Knights put runners aboard in the fourth inning, but Nick Petro—who was pitching one of his best games—fanned Dale Brandt to work out of the trouble.

The rain slowed again in the fifth, as both sides went quietly, and then the Saints had batted through the sixth.

Petro had fanned one batter in the sixth, and was working on the second when the rain began to come down in earnest. And as the fans again rushed for automobiles, there wasn't even a whimper of disappointment at the lack of a complete game.

There seldom is when you win.

The Point Spread . . .

Real '500' Contender Next Year?

By WARREN HOWARD
(Mercury Sports Writer)

IN THE WORLD OF BASEBALL, there is the pitcher who overpowers the hitter with his tremendous fast ball, and then there is the one who is described as "sneaky" fast. The guy who uses his fast one sparingly, laying it on when you least expect it.

And just as auto racing has its "chargers," who surge to the front of the pack at race's outset, it also has those who appear to quietly go about their task, all but overlooked in the rush, but close among the leaders at the finish.

BOB MARSHMAN

Bobby Mashman may not be one of the latter, in the true sense of the word, but the Indianapolis "500" rookie of the year gave that impression at the "brickyard," and later at Milwaukee, until a broken magneto forced him out after 34 laps.

Spectators said the 24 year old "veteran" appeared to be "out for a Sunday drive." Marshman himself says that after the first hour his mind was absorbed with other things, despite surging down the straights at better than 150 mph!

"I THOUGHT ABOUT the fellows in the accident," he said. "I wondered if any of them were hurt. Then later on, I was thinking about buying Robby—my little boy—a wading pool. He loves the water and I know he'd get a kick out of it."

But for a guy who counldn't find a "ride" in the classic for the first two weeks of May, Marshman suddenly finds his schedule filled with racing dates. The first of which will be a trip around his dad's Hatfield speedway Saturday night.

The Hatfield trip will be the 50-lap George Fonder Memorial midget race, after which he will hop a plane Sunday morning from Baltimore, to drive in a sprint race at Terre Haute, Ind., Sunday afternoon.

He'll return home with John Pfrommer—who will have a car in the sprint race—driving all night, then get ready for a 100-mile National championship event at Langhorne next Sunday afternoon.

* * *

THE FONDER MEMORIAL event will also bear a bit of the "Indy" flavor, if only that for the first time, drivers will be vying for a piece of "lap" money, put up by the merchants. If a driver can surge to the front on the first lap and stay there, he stands a chance to pick up an extra $500.

But back on the subject of Indy, Marshman—who evoked comments concerning his "smooth driving"—says there were a few anxious moments.

"Particularly early in the race," he said. "My goggles became covered with oil, and then I started to pick up everybody else's rubber. They got so black that I couldn't see my tires wearing until the canvas came up and I could see the white.

"But I think, and I may be speaking out of turn," he continued, "that with what I learned in those 500 miles, that I should be a contender next year. I have more confidence now, and I should be able to make a better showing."

THERE WAS ALSO the subject of the two-way radio, with which both Hoover cars had been equipped for the 500. "It was working in this sense," said Marshman. "They (the crew) could hear me, but the earphones weren't working. I couldn't hear them."

He proudly displayed the gold ring with the "500" emblem, which he received for earning a share of "rookie of the year" honors, which he divided with Parnelli Jones, of Torrence, Calif. Many thought he should have held the honor alone.

Saturday night's midget ride will probably be his last for a long time. His championship itinerary will take him to Atlanta, Ga.; Syracuse, back to Milwaukee, Phoenix, Sacramento and sundry other points.

All this after the guy almost didn't get into the "500" at all. But it still set one a-wondering if—in later years—as young Robby cavorts in his wading pool, if he will realize how much it actually cost. But then, maybe he won't have to.

Area Baseball Activity Hampered By Sudden Heavy Cloud Burstings

The heavy downpour that blitzed the Pottstown area Thursday night caused postponement of a full slate of area baseball games.

The championship game of the Suburban Catholic league was in the bottom of the sixth stanza before a host of fans were forced to race for cover. Approximately one half hour after the second phase of a mixture of hail and rain, the game was declared official by Umpire in chief Hal Tyson.

One of the games that was rained out has been rescheduled. The Junior league contest between Kenilworth and ABC will be played Saturday morning at 10:30.

Games that will have to be rescheduled include Phoenixville and West Chester in the Ches-Mont Junior Legion league. The seven-team circuit has been having difficulties in the first week of the campaign. Four games are listed on the league log but only the Steelers' win over Downingtown has been played.

The Knee Hi contest between Pottsgrove Optimists and Holy Trinity must also be played at a later date. The American Legion Connie Mack program also had a full slate on tap before the rains came.

BRAVES' HRS SNAP RECORD

4 Straight Circuits Fail to Stop Redleg Win

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves set a major league record Thursday as four players hit home runs in succession in the seventh inning but it was wasted effort as the Cincinnati Reds won 10-8.

The Reds were coasting along with a 10-2 lead when the Braves exploded for the four homers, good for five runs. Eddie Mathews and Hank Aaron hit circuit blows off starter and winner Jim Maloney and then Joe Adcock and Frank Thomas did the same thing off reliever Marshall Bridges.

Many clubs have had three homers in succession with Detroit turning the trick last on May 23.

Eight homers were hit in the game. Mathews got two for the Braves and starting and losing pitcher Warren Spahn also had one for the Milwaukeeans. Gene Freese and Gordon Coleman homered for Cincinnati.

The victory was the eighth for Cincinnati in 11 games with Milwaukee this season.

The Reds pecked away at Spahn for single runs in the second and third but that did not more than keep them even with the Braves who scored twice in the third on Spahn's home run and then a single by Lee Maye, a double by Mathews, an intentional walk and a force out.

Krausse Jr. Inked On Krausse Sr. Say

NEW YORK, (AP) — A former major league pitcher whose top salary was $3,000 looked on proudly Thursday as his son was signed by his former club for a record $125,000 — on his recommendation.

The proud papa is Lew Krausse, Sr., who as scout for the Kansas City Athletics, was instrumental in the club's giving Lew Jr., the cash figure that topped any previous bonus offer.

At a specially called press conference, attended by club owner Charles Finley, General Manager Frank Lane and Manager Joe Gordon, young Krausse put his name to a Kansas City contract calling for a minimum $7,000 playing salary, in addition to his whopping bonus which will be spread over five years.

"Before we made our decision to sign the boy," said Finley, "I told his father his job with us was not in jeopardy should his son sign with another club. However, I assured him we would match any legitimate offer by another club.

"We are paying him no more than he would have gotten elsewhere. I understand the Baltimore and Houston clubs offered him the same amount."

* * *

KRAUSSE, SR., pitched for the Athletics, when they were in Philadelphia, in 1931-33. He earned $2500 his first year, $3000 the next and was making the same salary when he was dropped in May of 1933.

Lew, Jr., is so highly regarded that he will be kept on the big league club. According to Lane, the 18-year-old right-hander has a live fast ball and a major league curve.

Young Krausse has hurled 18 no-hitters and in his final game struck out 24 batters before he was graduated from high school in Chester, Pa.

Reporters invited to the conference via telegram had expected some fireworks in view of reported feuding between Finley and Lane, Finley and Gordon, and Lane and Gordon.

All parties involved joked about it but denied there was anything but a happy family feeling on the club.

Hightower Will Sign With ABL Pittsburgh 5

PITTSBURGH, (AP) — Wayne Hightower, a University of Kansas basketball star who withdrew from school to play professionally, will sign with the Pittsburgh Rens, Rens' owner Lenny Litman said Thursday.

Litman, holder of the local franchise of the new American Basketball league, said Hightower had agreed in a telephone conversation from Philadelphia to play for his club next season.

"We had a meeting of the minds," Litman said, adding that the formal contract will be signed at the Rens' training camp in Waynesburg, Pa., sometime next week.

Marshman Ready For Midget Test At Hatfield Oval

Pottstown's Bobby Marshman, who got his first midget ride three years ago for owner Harry Hespell, Montgomeryville quarry operator, will rejoin the Hespell race team for the second running, of the George Fonder Memorial race tomorrow evening at Hatfield speedway.

Marshman, who this year tried his hand in championship cars at Indianapolis, where he finished seventh in the "500" and shared rookie honors with Parnelli Jones, will drive one of four Hespell Offenhausers.

He'll ride as a team with veteran Dutch Schaefer, Floral Park, Long Island, the ARDC defending champion; Red Marlowe, Bronx, and Al Graeber, Springfield, last year's "most improved" chauffeur.

The Fonder Memorial, a 50-lap event over Hatfield's high-banked third-mile clay course, is in remembrance of the popular Lansdale race driver who was fatally injured at Hatfield on June 14, 1958.

THE FIRST running of the Fonder Memorial, in 1960, was captured by Ernie McCoy, Reading, who'll be seeking a repeat triumph in his Lori B. Offy.

Another Indianapolis star, Al Keller, Green Acres, Florida, who finished fifth in the Memorial Day classic, also will be on hand along with ARDC's elite, Len Duncan, Philadelphia; Jiggs Peters, Neshamic, New Jersey, Bill Randall, North Reading, Massachusetts, Johnny Coy, Freeport, Long Island, Vern Harriman, Buffalo; Tony Bonadies, Bronx; Gig Stephens, North Reading, Massachusetts, King Carpenter, Rockville, Connecticut and a host of others.

Red Riegel, Leesport, winner of the May 20 midget race at Hatfield, will be aiming for another victory in the Jake Vargo (Perkasie) Offy.

FIRST-INNING THRUST ICES SERIES ROUT

Mays, McCovey Solo HRs Only Scores Off Buzhardt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Philadelphia ripped veteran Sam Jones for three runs in the first inning Thursday en route to a 5-2 victory over the slumping San Francisco Giants.

Right-hander John Buzhardt notched his second pitching triumph with a four hitter as the last place Phillies captured the series three games to one. Jones sought his sixth victory but took his fifth loss before a batter was out in the second inning. Big Sam had set the Phils down six times without a loss in 1960 and once this year.

Philadelphia actually won in the opening frame. Tony Taylor walked. Charley Smith bunted and both were safe when catcher Ed Bailey threw wild to second. Ken Walters forced Smith and Taylor was trapped off third when a squeeze bunt failed. Pancho Herrera then doubled home one run. Don Demeter doubled in a second and Bobby Del Greco singled in the third.

Smith's second inning single scored Ruben Amaro after the Philly shortstop drew a pass that sent Jones to the showers. Jim Duffalo and Billy O'Dell finished.

Solo homers by Willie Mays, his 11th, and by Willie McCovey, his 8th, gave the Gianst their runs in the second and fourth innings.

Archer, A's Halt Yank HR Streak, Win String with 9-6 Nightcap Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Archer, a stubby southpaw rookie, weathered a five-run second inning and choked off New York's home run streak at 17 games Thursday night as Kansas City bounced back for a 9-6 victory in the second game of a twi-night doubleheader.

The Yankees had won their sixth in a row, their longest streak of the season, with a 6-1 decision in the opener.

The A's crushed the Yankees in the nightcap with a five-run inning of their own, in the third, and then put it away with three runs in the fifth. A double by Hank Bauer and three consecutive triples by Leo Posada, Norm Siebern and Joe Pignatano brought in the third-inning runs.

Bauer, who had three of the A's 11 hits, and Siebern, both ex-Yanks, singled for runs in the fifth.

Archer, now 3-1, was tagged for 11 hits and walked three. But he breezed home for a 3-1 record. Lefty Danny McDevitt (1-2), first of five Yank pitchers, was the loser, leaving in the third inning.

Tony Kubek, who singled in the opener, had three hits in the second game, one a two-run single in the Yankee second inning, and stretched his hitting streak through 18 games.

Twins Top Birds To Halt 13-Game Loss String 3-1

BALTIMORE (AP) — Chuck Stobbs retired Jim Busby with the bases loaded in the ninth inning Thursday night to preserve a 3-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles and snap a 13-game losing streak by the Minnesota Twins.

Baltimore loaded the bases on two-out singles by Dick Williams, Jerry Adair and pinch hitter Marv Throneberry before Busby hit the first pitch to center fielder Bill Tuttle.

Stobbs was one of three pitchers used by acting manager Sam Mele in the eighth inning when Baltimore rallied for its only run on a double by pinch hitter Dave Philley, a walk and a single by Jackie Brandt.

With one out and two runners aboard, Don Lee relieved starter Jim Kaat and retired Brooks Robinson, who had made three previous hits.

Rose Granted Immunity By Gotham Cage Probers

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, (AP) — The ever-expanding college basketball scandal Thursday resulted in the indictment of four former players on charges of conspiracy and bribery in point-shaving attempts. All four had been named previously as co-conspirators.

Two new names were involved in the announcement by Frank Hogan, district attorney of New York county who said the investigations would continue until Fall.

Another former Connecticut player and a former North Carolina player were the new men.

Hogan said Jack Rose, 23, of South Windsor, Conn., had accepted $1,000 to hold down the score in a Connecticut-Niagara game, Jan. 16, 1960 at Niagara Falls, N. Y. He said the former Connecticut captain's team was to have lost by seven points under the agreement. It lost by 33 points —Niagara 112, Connecticut 79.

* * *

ROSE WAS granted immunity for testifying before the New York county grand jury, Hogan said.

Hogan also claimed Raymond Stanley of Chapel Hill, N. C., former North Carolina player, had rejected a "blankekt offer" of $1,000 to shave points but failed to report the incident.

The new developments raised the total to 31 players from 17 schools from coast to coast who have been involved in the latest scandal.

Hogan said the grand jury which is due to expire June 30 will be continued at least until the Fall. The first break in the current scandal came March 17.

* * *

THE NEW indictments covered Dave Budin, 28, former Brooklyn college captain; Jerry Vogel, 24, and Daniel Quindazzi, 24, both former Alabama players and Lou Brown, 22, former North Carolina player. Budin lives in Brooklyn, Vogel in The Bronx, Quindazzi in Yonkers, N.Y. and Brown in Jersey City.

Most of the counts involving the four men in the new charges paralleled similar counts in two previous indictments April 27 of Aaron Wagman, 28, convicted football fixer from New York, and May 24 of Joseph Hacken, 49, another New Yorker.

Budin, former physical education teacher in a Brooklyn junior high school who had been involved in an alleged fix attempt of a Michigan-Oregon football game last Fall, was indicted on one count of conspiracy and 27 counts of bribery, with Hacken as a co-conspirator. It was charged the deals involved point shaving in 15 games involving five players from three colleges including Seton Hall, New York university and St. John's, as previously announced in the indictment of Hacken.

VOGEL and Quindazzi were indicted on one count of conspiracy and one of bribery, duplicating a bribery count against Wagman involving Peter Kelly, former Connecticut captain.

Hogan charged the conspiracy of Vogel and Quindazzi involved Wagman and a missing associate of Wagman's, Joseph Green. He claimed they met Vogel and Quindazzi at the University of Alabama and arranged for the two former Alabama players to act as go-betweens for a meeting of Wagman and Green with William Minnerly, former Connecticut football captain, who was to line up the basketball players.

The indictment charged Vogel and Quindazzi paid Rose $1000 for point shaving in the Niagara game.

Spring City '9' Opens Season in 6:15 Go Tonight

The Spring City American Legion team opens its 1961 season this evening at 6:15, when it plays host to West Chester, one of the new league entries.

The game will be played on the New street Junior high field in Spring City. The Red Sox organization has whipped up a program befitting the auspicious occasion.

The ladies' auxillary of the Legion post will appoint a representative to throw out the first ball, and read the sporting code—a regular American Legion procedure—to the players.

The Spring City team will be managed again this year by George Neborak, with Ben LaPish and Everett Brower acting as coaches. Brower is a new addition to the staff.

Calvin Adams and Clayton (Red) Shaner are also returning in their capacity as business managers.

The Sox boast several veterans from the 1960 unit, including pitcher-infielder Dan Ferguson, Ed Mogel and Joel Smiley in the infield, Denny Faust behind the plate and Rich Brower in the outfield.

Brower will also aid the pitching corps.

BOATING BILL PASSES HOUSE

Sliding Scale License Measure Now Heads For Senate

HARRISBURG (AP) — The sportsmen's boating bill sailed safely through the troubled waters of the House Thursday.

After a long, sometimes acrimonious, debate, the House approved the measure, 113-75. It's next port of call is the Senate. There was no indication what sort of reception it would get there.

The bill basically proposes to license boats in much the same way that motor vehicles are licensed, except that there would be a sliding scale of from $1 (for rowboats, canoes and sailboats) to $12 for the largest motor - powered boats.

It also gives the Fish commission power to set up boating safety regulations, and enforce them.

THERE SEEMED to be general agreement that some such legislation is needed as boating grows in popularity each year. Yet, for three years, a battle has raged between the boatmen and the sportsmen over the substance of such legislation.

The essence of the battle is that certain groups, notably in the Delaware River basin, don't want fish wardens enforcing regulations. They prefer the present set-up where the Delaware River Navigation commission, under the jurisdiction of the Department of Forests and Waters, enforces what rules exist pertaining to the waterways there.

The boating groups feel that the Fish commission is too oriented to the fishermen without regard to the needs of plain boatmen.

There also is opposition to the fee schedule. This opposition has been expressed with less vigor than in the greater issue of jurisdiction.

ONCE AGAIN Thursday—as happened when a somewhat similar bill was debated in the 1959 session—the boatmen and the sportsmen rocked the bill until it appeared surely it would sink.

The Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's clubs had endorsed the measure. The boatmen have backed a different bill in the Senate.

The debate and subsequent vote split the parties and even the House Fisheries committee, which worked over the bill and reported it for full House action.

HAPPY INDIANS—Cleveland Indians Manager Jimmy Dykes is hugged in Detroit dressing room between games of twi-night doubleheader, after Indians defeated Tigers, 1-0 to solidify their first-place standing in the American league. It was the 10th straight win for the Indians.

Bosox Shade Angels 6-5 in Opener, Nightcap Called at 4-4 After 11

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox gained a 6-5 victory in the opener of a twi-night doubleheader with the Los Angeles Angels Thursday night and then the two clubs battled to a 4-4 tie, called at 1:15 a.m. (EST) after 11 innings because of rain.

Vic Wertz walloped a two-run homer in the seventh for Boston's first game triumph which was credited to southpaw Ted Wills, who pitched shutout ball in relief over the last four innings.

The clubs were tied 2-2 after seven innings of the nightcap and the Sox appeared to have scored the winning run in the eighth on a tally engineered without a hit.

But bulky Steve Bilko had different ideas. The LA first baseman drew a walk with one out in the ninth. After the next batter fanned, Albie Pearson stroked a pinch single to center. Big Steve lumbered all the way to third and then scored on Eddie Yost's pinch single tying the score 3-3. Gene Leek's fifth homer put the Angels ahead in the eleventh.

In the Boston eleventh Chuck Schilling walked. Then Gary Geiger belted a triple scoring Schilling.

Thomas, Associates Quit Negotiations With Sox

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Comedian Danny Thomas and his associates Thursday washed out all negotiations involving purchase of stock in the Chicago White Sox baseball club.

Nor will there be any litigation against the club as threatened Wednesday by Chicago attorney Bernard Epton, one of Thomas' group.

As far as we are concerned the Chicago White Sox deal is closed. There will be no litigation," Thomas said in a prepared statement.

"Our only interest now is Bill Veeck's health and that the White Sox win ball games."

Spaceman Shepard's Big Thrill Came as Navy 'Oar'

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—What was Astronaut Shepard's greatest thrill?

Did it come when he roared into space at more than 5000 miles-an-hour?

No, it was much slower than that, and for a Navy man it came appropriately enough on the water.

Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. remembers his greatest thrill came when he carried the bow oar on Navy's championship crew team in 1944.

THE NAVY oarsman won the Eastern Intercollegiate championship at Cornell university that year.

Shepard, who stresses the "we" in Project Mercury space work, has been a team man since his earliest days at the U. S. Naval academy at Annapolis, Md.

He entered the academy in 1941 as a 17 year old Plebe, but he had behind him a "pretty good" record as a football player in his hometown of East Derry, N. H.

Shepard was whisked through the school at a wartime-accelerated pace, but was on the crew team for three years—Plebe, junior varsity and varsity.

THE ASTRONAUT, who gave his first sports interview to Ed Laborwit of the Newport News, Va., Times-Herald, said, "that sport (crew) is an exacting one. It builds your arms and chest muscles to prime shape, and you can lose three or four pounds easily in every race.

"When I finished that Senior year," he added, "I weighed 180 pounds and it was all solid."

Shepard, who lives at Virginia Beach with his wife, Louise, and daughters Laura, 13, and Julie, 9, began playing golf when he returned from flight training in the Pacific in 1946.

"I haven't had too much time to play this year," Shepard said in an understatement, "but I did get in two rounds at nearby Princess Anne. I shot an 88 and 86."

Shephard, who says he shoots in the "high 70's and middle 80's," said with a laugh that he only plays now when he can "sneak away, which isn't very often."

Another interest in the astronaut's sporting life is water skiing, a sport in which he became adept while stationed on the Patuxent river in Southern Maryland as a Navy Test Pilot.

LAST 2 U.S. MATMEN FALL

Russians Sweep 5 Medals In Greco-Roman Matches

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP)—The United States' final survivors, Lightweight Ben Northrup and Flyweight Dick Wilson, were eliminated as the Soviet Union swept to five gold medals Thursday in the World Greco-Roman wrestling championships.

Northrup of San Francisco, first lost by a fall to Imre Polyak of Hungary and then dropped a decision to Aviandi Koridze of the Soviet Union. Koridze was the ultimate winner.

Wilson, from the University of Toledo, went out when he dropped a decision to Russia's Armaez Saiadov, another of that Country's champions.

Wilson, America's chief hope, suffered a setback Wednesday when he was disqualified for roughness in his semifinal match.

* * *

THIS COST him four black marks in a competition in which six bad marks result in elimination.

Romania, Hungary and the United Arag Republic shared the other three championships.

The Russians wound up the week's tournament in both the freestyle and Greco-Roman at Kelo university memorial hall with 71 points and led 22 participating Nations in team standing.

Turkey, one of the tourney's outstanding favorites, was second with 53.5 points, followed by Iran with 49. Hungary was fourth with 28.

FA 3-3000 is the number for news tips.

Schneider Heads Modified Group At 'Grove Oval

WILLIAMS GROVE—Frankie Schneider, former National modified stock car racing champion from Flemington, N.J., will head up the leadfooted brigade of speedsters taking to the Williams Grove speedway tonight.

Schenider will be making his first start in modified stock car competition at the Grove on a six-event card getting underway at 8:30.

The Jerseyite's appearance will provide the stiffest test the popular favorites since the inauguration of th season-long weekly series of stock car races on the oval April 21, have yet faced.

Among those eager for an opportunity to match their daring and skill against the nationally-known speed veteran are:

Frankie Thompson, Shrewsberry, the Groves defending champion; Leroy Felty, Jonestown; Johnny Dubendorf, Lewistown; Dick Tobias, Lebanon; Roger Sowers, Mt. Holly Springs; Johnny Grum, Altoona; Hook Schaible, Easton, Pee Wee Pobletts, Baltimore; Mitch Smith, Linglestown, and Johnny Mackison, Delta.

A good showing in competition against the seasoned, track-wise Schneider would be an indication that those drivers making good are ready for stock car racing's "big time."

An opportunity to move up into the big league will come at the Grove on Sunday afternoon, June 25, when Bob Richwine will bring a National championship late model stock car racing classic to his half-mile speedway sanctioned by the U.S. Auto club.

Schneider, winner of a 100-lap late model race here two years ago, is looking around himself for "a ride" in the big test.

Dykes Protests, But Tribe Win Streak Falls After 10 in Row

DETROIT (AP)—The Cleveland Indians and the Detroit Tigers, locked in a battle for first place in the American League, divided a pair of great pitching battles, the first-place Indians winning the opener 1-0 and the Tigers taking the much disputed nightcap 2-1.

Norm Cash's 13th home run and a pair of fielding lapses by the Cleveland infield helped Frank Lary to his ninth triumph in the second game, played under protest by Indian Manager Jimmie Dykes after a wild rhubarb in the eighth inning.

Jim Perry and reliever Frank Funk combined for the first game whitewash, scattering 10 Tiger safeties.

The first victory was Cleveland's 10th straight and the Indians' 22nd in 26 games.

The Tigers, who had scored only one run in three games, cut Cleveland's first place margin back to a half game with the nightcap victory. A crowd of 48,550 watched the exciting twinbill at Tiger Stadium.

The controversial play that resulted in Dykes' protest came when pinch batter Bob Hale bounced into a force play. First base umpire Larry Napp ruled Hale safe at first, and the Tigers immediately raised a howl. Players stormed Napp and Manager Bob Scheffing bolted onto the playing field.

Hale made a little dash for second base while the argument was going on around the first base bag and was tagged out by catcher Mike Roarke.

Dykes, the Cleveland players and coaches argued for about 15 minutes with all four of the umpires, complaining that Hale could not be tagged out since Scheffing was on the field.

The umpires would not budge and Dykes protested the game. The veteran manager screamed at plate umpire Harry Schwarts again in the ninth when Johnny Temple injured his hand on a pitch from Lary.

Schwarts ruled the ball hit the bat and would not give Temple first base although he had to leave the game because of the injury.

Cash hit his homer in the second inning.

The Tigers got their second run in the fifth. Lary and Jake Wood singled and the bases became loaded when shortstop Woodie Held made a wide throw on Al Kaline's grounder. Lary scored when first baseman Vic Power threw late to the plate on Charlie Maxwell's grounder.

Don Dillard drove in Cleveland's only run with a pinch double in the sixth. He was thrown out at the plate moments later when he tried to score on Temple's single to center.

Temple and Power doubled in the first inning for the only inning of the opener as the Indians handed Don Mossi his first loss after six victories.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

"YOUR PRICES have doubled in the past year alone," a city dweller complained to a farmer selling vegetables. "Madam," stated the farmer, "when a man has to know the botanical name of what he raises, the entomological name of all the insects that eat it up and the pharmaceutical name of the poison to spray on them—he's entitled to up his prices to some extent."

The lady paid.

A lady in Miami Beach, heading north in a bus on Collins Avenue, tapped the driver on the shoulder and inquired, "Do you stop at the Fontainbleau Hotel?" "No, Ma'am," snorted the driver. "Not on my salary!"

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Spaatz Squadron Views Polaris Submarine Film

Cadets of the General Carl A. Spaatz squadron 807, Civil Air patrol, viewed a film entitled "Man and the Fleet Ballistic Missile" and heard a talk by Lt. Harry P. Mutter, squadron aerospace education officer. The naval film showed a Polaris-carrying nuclear submarine, showed its construction, launching, fitting-out and commissioning.

The cadets saw how the crew of such a submarine is hand picked, especially trained in atomic principles and prepared for sea duty. Nuclear powered submarines carrying Polaris missiles were recently pledged for the defense of Europe and the support of the Atlantic alliance.

CURTIS F. SEASHOLTZ

Lt. Mutter spent several years on Boeing Aircraft corporation's "Minuteman" missile development, and journeys from West Chester every other week to guide the teenage cadets in their study of the CAP's book, "The Dawning Space Age."

The radio communications class was instructed in the phonetic alphabet by CWO Curtis F. Seasholtz, Firestone instrument technician. The class is preparing to take the CAP radio operator's test. Members now hold third class FCC radiotelephone operator's cards.

THE FIRST orientation flight of the season was given to T/Sgt. John H. Mutter, with Capt. William J. Hare at the controls of the Boyertown Flying Club's airplane. After taking off from New Hanover airport where the plane is based, the CAP members flew over the Boyertown area. Each cadet who completes Capt. Hare's navigation class is expected to plan a short flight and act as navigator for its duration.

CWO Seasholtz showed slides of the Pennsylvania State forest in the Williamsport region at the weekly meeting in Boyertown Area High school. The squadron will conduct a training exercise in that area on the 16, 17 and 18th of this month.

Headquarters personnel will be based at a cabin partially owned by Seasholtz, while members of the Ranger land rescue team will hold maneuvers in the mountain area. Problems in radio communications, map reading and navigation will be featured.

The annual Ranger team commanders school was conducted at the CAP's Ranger training reservation at Hawk mountain, with Capt. Ard S. Barr, T/Sgt. John Mutter and C/3c Ronald Stauffer attending. Subjects covered included cliff evacuation, leadership, review of basic Ranger training and control of teams on missions.

Ten percent of the year's grade for the Ranger trophy was earned at the school, with particular attention being paid to military courtesy and discipline.

Places Will Appear At Youth Center

Lester and Grace C. Place, of Spring City, known as "The Musical Places" will make their second appearance at Boyertown Youth center, tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock for a program of gospel music.

The Places returned from a New England and New York State tour and from here they will travel to New York City.

Their program will include marimba, musical bells, saxophone, antique triple octave chimes and personal testimonies.

At a recent rally Mr. and Mrs. Lee Geist, and three children, Allentown, presented a program in song. Jack Snyder, Bechtelsville, played several harmonica selections, with Mrs. Snyder as piano accompaniment.

MORE THAN MACH 2—A model of a new Super-Caravelle jetliner with a strikingly-different delta-wing design is on display in Paris. Details of the sleek craft are being kept secret, but its builders say its speed will surpass Mach 2 (twice speed of sound), or more than 1200 miles an hour.

Boy Scout Paper Drive Planned in Parker Ford

PARKER FORD—Phone HY 5-6275 Lile McDonald, del. Phone Glenview 8-5219

Parker Ford Boy Scout troop 29 will conduct its annual Spring paper drive in East Coventry township tomorrow.

Residents of the area are asked to cooperate with the troop by tying papers into bundles and placing them on their porches or at their driveways early in the day, if possible.

Leighton Hacker, chairman of the drive, announced that proceeds from the drive will be used toward the purchase of camping equipment for the local troop. Forrest Jeffries is troop committee chairman.

The local boy scout troop is a member of the Great Valley district of the Chester County council of Boy Scouting. Effective Jan. 1, 1962, the area now known as the Great Valley district will be separated into two areas — "A" and "B." Parker Ford will be included in Area A along with the following townships, Schuylkill, East Pikeland, West Pikeland, West Vincent, East Vincent, East Nantmeal, West Nantmeal, South Coventry, North Coventry and Warwick. Area B will comprise boroughs and districts within the township lines of Charlestown, East Whiteland, Tredyffrin, Willistown and Easttown.

PLANS FOR THE division were recommended by the long range planning committee. Its chairman is Arthur P. G. McGinnes Jr. The committee was appointed by Council President John H. Ware 3d.

A comparison of the 1950 and 1960 population in the Chester county council area with the number of available boys in the Cub Scout age group, Boy Scout age group and Explorer age group and number of each age group currently enrolled revealed that membership has increased 11.5 percent. The percentage of boys enroled has decreased in a five year period from 1955 to 1960. Enrolment in all three units—Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Explorer — decreased from 91 percent to 80 percent in that period.

In addition to studying statistics from past years, the approximate number of available boys was projected for 1965, 1970 and 1980.

Also included in the research done by the committee was a study of camp and service center facilities available for use of the council.

it is still not convinced that the position requires a fulltime employe and that extra funds for the hiring of a fulltime employe are not available in the current budget.

Party leaders refused to comment on the decision or say whether council would agree to a floor vote on the increasingly complex situation.

* * *

THE BOARD of Health rejected the parttime solution of the health and sanitation committee Tuesday, terming the action a "move backwards," and called for the entire council to vote on the matter. The request is contained in a letter to Borough Council President J. Wayne Knause.

Knause said Thursday night that he would have to read the letter to council, but declined to say whether he would permit it to come to a vote.

Harold Bealer Is Winner in Runoff Election

Harold Bealer defeated Stanley "Dutch" Miller in a special runoff election Wednesday to take the office of Chief Steward in the Doehler Jarvis union United Auto Workers local 1056. The results became known Thursday when the ballots were officially counted.

Bealer captured 306 of the 569 votes cast to gain the office Miller won in June 1959. Miller received 261 votes. Two votes were voided.

The runoff election came about when Bealer, Miller, and Jack Emery, third candidate for the office, all failed to achieve a simple majority in the May 31 general elections. At that time, Bealer received 296 of 711 ballots cast, while Miller received 271, and Emery 144.

In a simple majority election, the winner must capture one more than half the total ballots cast.

The office of chief steward was the only race out of four possible contests in which a runoff was required. The other three—the presidency, and two trustee slots—were decided in the general elections.

School Board Adopts Budget

The Pottstown school board unanimously approved a $2,345,000 budget for the coming fiscal year at a special meeting Thursday afternoon in the administration building, Beech and Penn streets.

Except for minor revisions, the budget proposed by the board's secretary, Linford F. Moyer and Treasurer William D. Yohn Sr., one month ago was accepted.

In other business, the board, presided over by H. Bert Shaw, president, granted the following bids subject to approval of the school authority:

Fluorescent light fixtures, Philip Cass and company, Philadelphia, $1050.54;

Desk tops, R. A. Wagner company, Quakertown, $476;

Acoustical tile, C. M. Wall, Radnor, $501.18;

Lumber, Northeastern Lumber company, Reading, $1,219.27;

Tractor, gang mower and sprayer, Carl N. Durmire, incorporated, Sanatoga, $4332.

Sealed bids for aluminum storm windows for Jefferson school also were opened. Low bidder, at $3500, was the Aluminum Products Sales company, 507 High street.

Bids also were entered by Warren B. Zern company, incorporated, $4,747, and Lloyd F. Kershner, incorporated, Norristown, $5,918.

Awarding of this contract will be made at a special meeting of the board, as yet unscheduled.

Inside You And Yours

Quiz For Sun-Bathers

1. A GLOWING tan is a sign of health. True— False—
2. Sun-bathing can make you sick. True— False—
3. Sun rays can cause hives. True— False—
4. Sun-tan lotions can give you a true tan before sun-bathing. True— False—

Dr. Fern

5. Special pills prevent sunburn and speed tanning. True— False—

1. False. Worn-out adrenal glands, poor circulation and brain disease can all give you that glowing tan. Usually, you tan when harmful sun rays get under your skin.

To defend itself, the outer skin layer thickens while special cells, deeper down, manufacture a brown pigment — melanin. Sun rays can barely pierce this thick dark skin.

Some Differences

But all men aren't created equal; some have more pigment than others. Light blondes and redheads often freckle and burn, and never tan.

2. True. Sunlight may eventually lead to cancer. After years of climbing crow's-nests and nailing up scarecrows, sailors and farmers find their weather-beaten, sun-soaked, leather-like skin fertile ground for cancer. Even darker tars, protected by that recessed filter of melanin, aren't immune to skin cancer.

3. True. Allergic sun-worshipers sometimes break out in hives. Others battle sun-triggered fever blisters.

4. False. Tanning lotions put sun glasses on your skin so that you don't burn all at once. When your skin thickens and darkens, you won't have to open bottles for lotions of protection.

False Tan

To give you that tan feeling before you sun-bathe, many lotions stain your skin with a yellow-brown dye. This false tan can boost morale while you're waiting for your own pigment.

5. True. Oxypsoralen capsules —two hours before your sun bath — prevent burning and speed tanning when you soak up the sun. Because of side effects, however, oxypsoralen prescriptions are often reserved for the fairest of the fair!

Was your score fair? Or is your face red?

Dr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of The Mercury.

New Cancer Factor Is Discovered

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Research workers of Trinity College, Dublin, reported they have found a new factor responsible for the spread of cancer in body tissues.

Reporters were told this will enable medical workers to design a more specific line of research for ways to curb activity of the new factor—called the coagulate factor — and thus halt the cancer spreading to healthy tissues.

"First, however, much more about the growth requirements of cancer must be learned," newsmen were told at a news conference.

• • •

A spokesman said the newly discovered coagulative factor is produced by cancer tissues and deposited in body tissues in the form of threads of fibrin, the material of which blood clot is mainly formed.

It develops a source of nourishment for the cancer and aids it in its spread from tissue to tissue.

The discovery was made by a group headed by Prof. R. O'Meara.

PAYS ITS SHARE

Bills amounting to $5083 were paid by the Green Lane School board Thursday night. The bills were the township's share of the $109,188 bills approved by the Upper Perkiomen Joint school board.

GROWTH OF HAIR

As a rule, a person's hair grows from one inch to three-quarters of an inch a month.

GRADUATE—Kay B. Moyer, Huffs church, graduated from Brandywine Heights Joint High school, salutatorian of the class. She will enter Kutztown State college in the Fall to major in elementary education.

Fifth member of the family to attend the same college, her father is a teacher at Pine Forge, brother Lee is an elementary principal in Boyertown Area schools, and brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Moyer are teachers at New Hanover - Upper Frederick school.
